GIRDLER BRANDS MURRAY CLAIMS AS BEING 'FALSE'

Chairman For Republic Steel Appears Before Senate Committee

ANSWERS CHARGES WITH DENIALS

Reviews Previous Contentions Offered Against The C. I. O. Forces

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 24. — Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel, told a senate committee today Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee was "a liar" and that Senator Guffey (D-Pa) "doesn't know what he is talking about" with respect to the present steel strike.

Girdler's caustic answer came immediately after he had finished reading a prepared statement in which he said the basic issue of the steel strike "is the right of American citizens to work free from molestation by a labor organization whose apparent policy is either to rule or ruin American industry."

Appearing before the senate post-office committee to answer charges made against Republic by Murray, Girdler made his assertion in answer to a question by Senator Bridges (R-NH). The senator asked whether Murray's statement was true that the only issue was the question of reducing an oral agreement to writing.

Bridges said Senator Guffey had suggested the same thing at an earlier meeting of the committee.

"Mr. Murray is a liar to the best of my knowledge and belief and always has been," Girdler snapped in reply. "Senator Guffey doesn't know what he's talking about.'

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) immediately asked Girdler to withdraw his remark about Guffey.

Girdler remained silent.

Guffey, who is not a member of the committee but who was seated at the committee table, arose to assert, "it's all right with me if I can have the privilege of asking the witness a few questions after the others are through."

Deny Lawlessness Charge

Denying charges of lawlessness made against the steel companies last week by Murray, the plain-spoken industrialist presented for the record pictures of rifles, dynamite and other weapons which he said Ohio sheriffs had seized from strike pickets.

Girdler demanded that labor unions be made responsible for their acts by law. The CIO movement headed by John L. Lewis, he said, lacks such responsibility and any contract with it "is not worth the paper it is written on."

Murray had testified that the only strike issue was whether the steel companies would sign an agreement already made verbally with the union.

"That is not true," Girdler declared, "there is no such agreement, oral, or otherwise, now in existence."

While members of the committee listened closely, Girdler added at once that his statement did not mean the terms of employment in effect were indefinite, or uncertain. They have been reduced to writing, he said in the form of notices posted in all plants where they apply "and are thoroughly understood by our employes."

The steel executive, pausing to let his words sink in, said 20,000 Republic employes have remained at work throughout the strike "despite threats of violence and many additional thousands have been kept from work against their will."

He reviewed previous charges made against the CIO, contending its goal was to recruit members, not to obtain additional rights for workers. Thousands have protested against the company signing any agreement with the CIO, he said, and added that any such contract "is but the first step to a closed shop and the check-off as John Lewis and other CIO leaders have publicly announced."

Sums Up Contentions

Girdler summed his contentions as:

1—That the CIO has denied the right to work to those who refuse to pay it tribute.

2—That it promotes violence and disregard of law.

3—That the "CIO is associated with Communism."

He denied specifically that Republic has imported strike-breakers. He said interference with the mails by pickets had been proved.

In conclusion, he suggested principles for employer-employe relationships to promote industrial peace as follows:

"(1) Every worker should be free to join or not to join a union as he chooses without coercion from any source.

"(2) No employee should be forced to pay dues to a union against his will.

"(3) All employes should be permitted to take a vote by secret

PLAN ADDITIONAL LAKE HATCHERIES

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—Plans of the Lake of the Ozarks Association to expand its membership and work greater propagation of fish in the lake were announced here today as a result of a meeting held at Bagnell Dam earlier this week.

Under the proposed plan membership will include not only resort owners and lake property holders, but sportsmen interested in development of the lake for fishing.

Among the projects under consideration is construction of additional floating hatcheries in the lake, it was said.

MARTIAL LAW BE LIFTED FRIDAY AT JOHNSTOWN

Governor Earle Announces That Steel Plants Might Reopen

By The Associated Press.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 24.—Governor George H. Earle today announced that martial law would be lifted in Johnstown at 7 a. m. tomorrow and that the strike-bound plants of Bethlehem Steel Company which he had closed might reopen at the same hour.

To Resist Re-opening Move

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 23.—James Mark, head of the striking steel workers at the Bethlehem Steel Corporation's Cambria works, said today the union "will resist to the best of our ability" any attempt to reopen the mills tomorrow.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 24.—Johnstown's business leaders carried before the nation today in full-page newspaper advertisements their fight against the closing of the $50,000,000 Bethlehem Steel Mills here by Governor Earle's martial law order.

"We protest," stated advertisements costing $60,000.

"We are not arguing for or against unions or steel companies, but in defense of two fundamental liberties—right of local self-government and right of every worker to pursue occupation peaceably and within the law."

The closing of the vast Cambria works Sunday morning by the state police threw 15,000 out of work and stopped a weekly payroll of $500,000 in a community of 105,000.

Colonel A. S. Janeway, commanding officer of the state policemen under the martial law proclamation, said the governor had informed him martial law would not be recalled while the federal mediation board headed by Charles P. Taft continued to function.

The committee's advertisements were distributed by a Pittsburgh firm which handles publicity for the National Steel Corporation, headed by Ernest J. Weir, outspoken opponent of C. I. O.

The advertisements asserted:

"It is no part of the functions of American government to force—or to permit any one else to force—individual workers into surrendering constitutional rights.

"Up until Saturday the Cambria plant continued to operate * * * There was no serious disorder, and there was no prospect of any * * *.

"It was then announced 40,000 mine workers under the control of John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O. and of the United Mine Workers, proposed to march on Johnstown and to hold a mass meeting outside the city.

"This was the excuse offered by Governor Earle in justifying his order * * *. After his open insult to * * * Johnstown, the governor was able to persuade Lewis to issue orders countermanding the invasion * * *.

"Why didn't he declare martial law on Lewis? Why didn't he order him to call off his army * * *?

"* * * Thousands must look for relief to the federal dole. Because of a totally unnecessary strike, and political maneuvers of an ambitious governor, your tax money will be used to relieve the distress of American workers who have jobs but are denied the opportunity to work at them.

"If this can happen in Johnstown, it can happen anywhere else. It can happen in your community unless you protest now to your elected representatives."

James Mark, union strike leader, left the city last night and could not be reached for a statement.

This information was received by Chief of Police John J. O'Brien this afternoon from J. Edgar Hoover, Federal Bureau of Investigation.

SOCIAL SECURITY AFFAIRS TO A FIVE MEMBER BOARD

Governor Appoints It To Supervise New Setup In Missouri

PENSION AID GO TO 20,000 MORE

George Hayworth Is 'Borrowed' as Acting Administrator

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—Governor Stark today announced appointment of George Haworth of Carthage as acting administrator of the new social security law, which he signed last night. Haworth is being "borrowed" from the WPA, for which he is the Joplin district administrator, the governor said.

Haworth's salary will be $6,000 yearly. The announcement followed closely the governor's naming of the five-member, non-partisan state social security commission to supervise administration of the law which combines old age assistance, child welfare activities, and relief under one new setup.

Commission members were announced last night following signature of the Casey social security bill, which put it into effect immediately.

The commission and the administrator will supervise expenditure of $48,000,000 in state and federal funds during the rest of 1937 and 1938.

"Haworth has made an outstanding record in the Joplin WPA district," the governor said. "He will take charge of social security administration until a permanent setup is accomplished."

Haworth is a director of a Carthage bank and former general manager of the Harry Payne Whitney mining interests in the tri-state district, which involved supervision of a large force of men, the governor said.

The new setup went into effect last night when Governor Stark signed the Casey Social Security bill and named the commission to administer it.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—(AP)—The Casey social security bill consolidating administration of old age assistance, relief and child welfare activities under one head went into effect last night when Governor Stark signed it.

The governor also named the five members of the non-partisan commission which will supervise administration of the new law.

They were:

William T. Kemper, Kansas City banker and business man, chairman.

Dr. E. L. Morgan, Columbia, head of the department of rural sociology at the University of Missouri, vice-chairman.

W. T. Nardin, St. Louis, president of the Pet Milk Company there and prominently identified with Chamber of Commerce and community fund activities.

Mrs. Arthur B. McGlothlan, St. Joseph, president of the Missouri Association for Social Welfare.

Wallace Crossley of Warrensburg, present state relief administrator and former lieutenant governor.

Governor Stark must later, with the advice of the commission, name a state administrator, who will be paid a salary of $6,000 yearly.

Signature of the new law will make possible addition of 20,000 names to the old age assistance rolls, which will total approximately 7,3000 with the payments to be made between July 1 and 5, it was said.

These 20,000 have been held off the rolls since January 1, though certified as eligible, pending legislative action to change the assistance law.

The welcome checks to the 20,000 who have thus far received no old age pensions will average between $12 and $13 for the first month, the same as received by those already on the rolls. They have been averaging about $11 monthly.

With a $17,000,000 state appropriation and matching federal funds, officials expect a gradual increase in the average monthly assistance check up to about $20. Some checks will range as high as the $30 maximum, others far below the average, the amount being based on need.

There will be no break in administration of old age assistance or relief activities under the new setup, as Governr Stark has asked that present administrative personnel remain until the new officers formulate their plans.

Col. Allen M. Thompson, present old age assistance commissioner, said tonight his department had a skeleton organization in each county ready to take over the work under the new setup until the new commission selects its own staff.

George Kaley pleaded guilty in the circuit court today to assault and was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

RETIREMENT BILL AWAITS SIGNATURE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Revised railroad retirement legislation required only President Roosevelt's signature today to become law.

Murray W. Latimer, chairman of the railroad retirement board, said it would be put into effect immediately.

The Wagner-Crosser bill, revising the 1935 retirement act, went through the senate without opposition yesterday, after a single vote had been cast against it in the house.

Proponents said quick presidential approval was assured.

The legislation provides annuities up to $130 a month for the nation's 1,150,000 railway workers upon retirement because of age or disability.

Separate legislation providing taxes to be shared equally by the roads and their employes remains to be enacted.

INSURGENTS SINK A FREIGHTER OFF SPANISH COAST

British Doing Best To Calm Disturbed Situation Among Powers

By the Associated Press

The insurgent cruiser Baleares went into action and sank a Spanish government freighter today in the midst of international tension about Spain's shores.

The Baleares' eight-inch guns sent the little freighter Trinidad to the bottom within a few minutes seven miles at sea, outside French territorial waters off Port Vendres, France.

The Trinidad's crew of seven was captured.

The German official news bureau reported that another insurgent cruiser captured the Soviet freighter Kuban with a heavy cargo of "armaments."

With the British doing their best to calm the situation created by German-Italian withdrawal from Europe's "hands off Spain" patrol, Italy effected a measure which might mean much in any real Mediterranean fuss.

Il Duce created a new naval base at Tripoli commanding British Empire "life-line" passage toward Suez.

Berlin sent two-thirds of her most powerful warships to Spanish duty. But London let Germany know that any aggressive act by the Reich's massing men of war in Spanish waters would be looked upon "most seriously" by his majesty's government.

France matched the German show of force. A French warship fleet anchored at Bone, Algeria, due south of Italy's Mediterranean island of Sardina, after secret night maneuvers.

In spite of the tension, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden urged the house of commons to accept with "great reserve" any excited reports of German naval movements after Italo-German withdrawal from Europe's "hands off Spain" patrol.

COUNTY PENSIONERS TO BE INCREASED

There are at the present time 725 men and women in Pettis county seventy years of age or over, who are receiving old age pensions and after August 1 that number will be increased by at least 135.

Under the direction of Clifford Wood, a case-worker for the old age assistance board, a number of pending applications have been investigated, or others re-investigated. They were passed on by the board, Emmett Sullivan, Mrs. Malcolm Scott and L. L. Stuart, and will be sent to the state old age assistance office in Jefferson City for payment to begin in August.

Administrator of the fourth district WPA, composed of fourteen counties, with headquarters in Sedalia, who has been appointed assistant administrator of the new second district, in which the Kansas City and Sedalia offices are merged.

BAN SIGHTSEERS AT STATE PRISON

By The Associated Press

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—All sightseers are barred from the state penitentiary here indefinitely because of an extended building program now getting under way, Warden J. M. Sandrs announced today.

Sanders said relatives and members of convicts' families will be permitted to visit them once a month, effective July 10. Heretofore they were allowed two visits a month.

The rule against sightseers went into effect today.

The warden explained the restriction was necessary because of the large number of workmen who must be passed in and out of the main gate.

Building projects at the prison include a new administration building, hospital, cell block and garage. A dormitory, recently completed, will be ready for occupancy when equipment is installed.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL FOR HIKING GASOLINE TAX

Nine Other Bills Given Approval By Executive Today

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—The bill hiking the gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents was signed today by Governor Stark.

It becomes effective December 7, 1938, when the present constitutional limit of 2 cents expires, and is expected to yield an additional $6,000,000 yearly for road building purposes.

The governor made no announcement as to his action on the measure also passed by the legislature, which would cut passenger automobile license fees in half.

The gasoline tax increase bill was strongly urged by the administration, as essential to provide funds for building rural roads after the last of the money from the $75,000,000 bond issue is spent, and as interest charges on it increase.

The governor also signed nine other bills, including the uniform narcotics law, the act creating a new three-member parole commission, and the "dog law."

The narcotics bill requires that state and city officers enforce provisions similar to those of the Harrison anti-narcotics act in the federal field. It was sponsored by Senator Phil M. Donnelly of Lebanon.

The three-member commission to be setup under the parole bill will take over functions of the present penal board with respect to paroles at the state prison and Algoa reformatory. The measure was passed as a result of a study made by a committee headed by Rep. Suggett L. Edwards, Audrain county. Commission members will be paid $3,000 each yearly. The lieutenant governor and two to be named by the governor constitute the commission.

The "dog bill" allows counties to vote a dog tax of $1 for males and $3 for females, proceeds to be used to pay farmers for livestock or poultry destruction caused by dogs.

Five other bills signed included:

A measure by Senator Allen McReynolds, Carthage, to require use of Missouri products in state construction. It goes into effect immediately.

A bill restoring advertising of optometrists, and specifying practices to be regarded as unethical.

A bill by Senator W. G. Lockridge, Fayette, authorizing the university extension service to cooperate with the federal department of agriculture in administering the soil conservation act.

A bill by Senator M. E. Casey, Kansas City, requiring that copies of health and accident insurance policy forms be deposited with the state insurance commissioner before policies can be sold.

A bill allowing the penal institutions at Boonville and Chillicothe to give board and room to employes as part of their pay.

BROTHER KILLER BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF GUN

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—(AP)—The accidental discharge of a revolver killed Charles Wilhelm, 13, today. The bullet struck the boy above the right eye.

Police Captain Arthur L. McGuire said the boy's sister, Leona Wilhelm, 15, told him the weapon went off when she reached for it as she was making a bed.

Letters of Administration.

Letters of administration were issued in the probate court, by Judge J. E. Smith, to J. T. Hotsenpiller, on the estate of John W. Fowler, who died January 3, 1936, in a government hospital in Arizona.

ESTABLISH FIVE DISTRICTS OF THE WPA., IN STATE

Sedalia Headquarters Be Shifted To District 2 at Kansas City

ANNOUNCED BY MATTHEW MURRAY

Frank Monroe of This District Be Assistant Administrator

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—Consolidation of the WPA administration into five districts with headquarters at Moberly, Kansas City, St. Louis, Farmington and Springfield was announced today by Matthew Murray, state administrator.

The Moberly district will include all the 44 counties north of the Missouri river, Murray said.

The consolidation will take effect July 1.

Administrators of the five districts reduced to that number from 11, will be as follows:

District No. 1, Moberly—Henry Reidel, district administrator, formerly of the Hannibal district; Jim Holman, assistant, formerly head of the Moberly district.

District No. 2, Kansas City—Charles G. Haake, remains as district administrator; Frank Monroe, now head at Sedalia, assistant administrator.

District No. 3, St. Louis—Same as at present with Lloyd Greathouse in charge.

District No. 4, Farmington—Geo. Snider, administrator at Flat River heads the new district, with Charles Blanton, Jr., now head at Sikeston, as assistant.

District No. 5, Springfield—George Haworth, now head of the Joplin district, in charge, with Guy Wade, now head at Springfield, as assistant. Haworth was "borrowed" by Governor Stark today as acting state social security administrator.

Noble Aldrich, now district administrator at St. Joseph, and William Zavely, administrator at Sikeston, will be brought into the Jefferson City office, Murray said.

Part of the present lesser administrative personnel will be retained under the shakeup and part dropped, Murray said.

A saving of $25,000 or more a month, or 20 per cent, will be made by the readjustment, he explained. Administrative costs now run from $123,000 to $125,000 a month, and will be reduced to $95,000 by the consolidation.

Murray said reduction in WPA work and belief that economies should be effected accounted for the change.

When the new setup goes into effect about 62,000 men will be employed, with the load "pretty well balanced" between the districts, Murray commeated.

The Moberly, Farmington and Springfield districts will employ about 10,008 each, the St. Louis district something over 13,000, and the Kansas City district about 13,-000

The new first district at Moberly includes three present districts, with headquarters at St. Joseph, Hannibal and Moberly.

The new second district at Kansas City takes in the old fourth district, with headquarters at Sedalia, and the Kansas City district. It includes the following counties:

Jackson, Lafayette, Saline, Coop-

MELLON AND JOHN J. RASKOB INTO TAXES INQUIRY

Names Mentioned With Others Relative To Income Reductions

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 24 — The Names of Andrew W. Mellon, Pierre Du Pont and John J. Raskob entered today into a congressional investigation of methods by which the nation's wealthiest business and financial leaders reduce their income taxes.

Guy T. Helvering, internal revenue commissioner, gave the names to a joint senate-house inquiry committee. Just before the committee recessed until Tuesday morning the treasury tax official informed the committee that 1,300 personal holdings, through deductions perfectly legal under present statutes, had made an aggregate tax saving of $2,638,307 in 1936 returns.

He estimated that an analysis, not yet made, of 4,516 holding company returns would show a tax reduction totaling $9,327,000. And that figure, he asserted, represented only a fraction.

Helvering never questioned the legality of tax deductions taken by the holding companies. He asserted that had the owners filed individual income tax returns they would have paid much more revenue into the federal treasury.

Asked after the hearing whether any legal proceedings were planned against those named, he replied negatively.

Included in the list of holding company owners were such names as Thomas W. Lamont, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., Roy W. Howard, W. S. Paley and Robert P. Scripps.

Helvering did not say at any point that the tax-reducing activities of those named were in anyway illegal.

Instead, he said they took advantage of tax reductions allowed personal holding companies under the law which are not permitted on individual tax returns.

The treasury official listed the names of 17 holding companies and their principal owners as examples of how holding companies were used by wealthy persons to cut tax payments.

The list started with the Robert P. Scripps Company, of which Robert P. Scripps was given as principal owner.

The firm had net income before adjustments of $173,599, paid no corporate or holding company tax, and dividends of $45,000, the treasury officials said. The additional surtax that would have been paid had

GENERAL STRIKE IN COLLAPSE AT WARREN, OHIO

New Back-To-Work Move Gains Impetus—Appeal To President

MEDIATORS FAIL TO BRING ACCORD

Youngstown Mayor In Plea For End To "Unlawful Conditions"

By The Associated Press.

WARREN, O., June 24.—A C. I. O.-fostered general sympathy strike collapsed today while at Youngstown further along the Ohio steel valley strike front, a new back-to-work movement gained impetus with a telegraphic appeal to President Roosevelt asking aid to reopen strike-bound mills.

Mayor Lionel Evans of Youngstown wired President Roosevelt to end "unlawful conditions" so that the steel plants might resume operations under the protection of National Guard troops.

The Youngstown mayor also telegraphed Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio saying it was now apparent "that there will be no agreement reached between the steel companies and the unions through the mediation board."

As the federal board renewed peace negotiations in Cleveland with representatives of the four C. I. O. sieged independent steel companies—Republic, Bethlehem, Inland Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube—Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel clashed with members of the senate postoffice committee in Washington, D. C.

Five manufacturers closed their plants in Warren and Niles.

Concerns closed today normally employed approximately 1,000 men in this industrial city of 40,000.

Strikes were called in many Warren plants yesterday in a move for a projected general labor holiday as a protest against a court injunction limiting picketing at the Republic Steel plant in Warren.

The action, also, was a sympathy move against the movement of men and supplies into the Republic plant under protection of city police and the Ohio National Guard, sent to the Mahoning Valley by Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio to maintain the steel "status quo" while the federal mediation board continued its deliberations in Cleveland.

Says Action "Spontaneous"

Gus Hall, S. W. O. C. organizer, said "there will be no general strike for the present." He added that the C. I. O. had not issued a general strike call, saying the action of local unions was spontaneous.

"I am mighty glad it didn't happen," said Mayor G. A. Bjorson of Warren.

The general strike threat was abandoned after police reserves were ordered out today to protect non-strikers entering the Republic Steel Corporation plant.

BY AIR OVER THE NORTH POLE

The Soviet Russian aviators have achieved a notable flight from Moscow over the North Pole to Vancouver, Wash. It was a hazardous flight, undertaken to prove that this would be a practical route for air services between Russia and the United States. There was secrecy about the arrangements for the enterprise.

Soviet Russia is striving to be in the front rank of the nations with respect to its air performances. It has developed a great aerial armada and has made some spectacular flight experiments. At this time a group of Russians are at the North Pole for the purpose of making scientific observations.

With the steady progress of aviation, it may be that the Russian scheme of air services over the North Pole will be operative presently. The comparative success of the pioneer flight will lead to similar flights in the course of which practical data will be obtained and studied.

BROAD POWER FOR COMMISSION

Last February, Assistant Attorney-General Nolen gave out an opinion to the effect that the new Conservation Commission would have no regulatory powers of any consequence. Such an interpretation would defeat, at the outset, Missouri's opportunity to conserve and develop its wildlife resources free from political interference, as approved overwhelmingly by the voters.

Fortunately, the Post-Dispatch of St. Louis asserts, that interpretation has been discarded. Opening his wildlife conference at the executive mansion yesterday, Gov. Stark announced that a special study of the amendment by Edward S. Crow, also of the attorney general's staff, resulted in the conclusion that the amendment was self-enforcing and broad enough to give the commission full power to administer laws and collect and expend funds from hunting and fishing license funds. Mr. Stark said that this second opinion was in agreement with his own interpretation and that he would "proceed accordingly."

Let the governor show as good judgment in his selection of the four members of the commission, which he will be naming within a week, and Missouri's new conservation program will be off to a most promising start.

BUYING FOREIGN BONDS

From Milwaukee Journal.

All the money lost by suckers responding to the old Spanish prisoner story or the estate in England story is small change compared with the sums lost by investors in the beautifully engraved promises of foreign countries to pay more than they could pay. The securities and exchange commission in its report to congress recommends federal action for the protection of investors.

Of $5,345,000,000 in foreign bonds held in this country at the end of 1935, $1,749,000,000 was in default, the securities commission says. This means that a third of the money of investors went into unsound loans, or worse. Bonds of Latin America were in specially bad position, 76 per cent of the total no longer paying the interest promised.

The scandal of the Ivar Kreuger securities was among the scandals which shocked the country a few years ago. Out of it all came the securities commission. And now it appears that we have not cleaned up the mess.

These foreigners were very bad people to borrow so much. But—Amreicans were sold the bonds by fellow citizens and friends. For the most part the salesman did not know anything about the securities they peddled. They had them from large firms with important names now dishonored.

We ought to be very indignant with these foreign countries. But when it is shown that our own utterers of securities had induced these governments to borrow, in some cases by the payment of huge bribes, we may look nearer home.

For the trouble was here. And it still is. The securities commission recommends that congress eliminate from "protective" committees seeking adjustment of the defaulted bonds financial interests with a stake in the settlement.

Here, then, is a loophole not yet plugged by our attempts to safeguard investment. The better investment bankers, those who see the vital need of rehabilitating their business, ought to be interested, as well as congress.

MALINGED RED-HEADS

From the Boston Evening Transcript.

Red hair does not indicate that its possessor is quick-tempered, popular belief to the contrary notwithstanding. Dr. D. B. Klein, professor of psychology at the University of Texas, explains that the average person may remember only outstanding examples when he forms an opinion.

The explosive among the read-heads attract attention. Those of disposition meek and mild are overlooked. Instead of being in a class by themselves, adding to the zest of life by their outbursts of anger and at other times notable for their merry disposition, red-headed people, all together, are pretty much like the general run of humanity.

So another notion goes into the discard. The color of the hair does not govern the temper.

CAN "THEY HIT IT OFF?"

From the Christian Science Monitor.

England has been floored. A Japanese student pursuing researches into the English language has encountered the remarkable phrase, "He and she do not hit it off together very well." It has puzzled him. He wants to know who or what this "it is, why they want to hit it, and what they want to hit it off from. But, alas, no one he has consulted has been able to give any information. "It" is a mystery.

Yet, assuming that English is a logical language, a little lucid thought should prove helpful. "It" has some of the properties, for example, of a golf ball, which is, or should be, hit off from a tee. Yet to identify "it" with a golf ball would be premature, for it is definitely stated that he and she wish to hit "it" together, while a golf ball is hit by only one person at a time—if then.

Further research establishes beyond doubt that "it" cannot be the same thing as a golf ball, for inquiry into the English language reveals the existence of a second phrase involving the use of the same mysterious pronoun. "It rains" is an observation frequently employed in Britain, especially during the summer months. Pursuing this line of thought, one would conclude that "it" is a cloud rather than a golf ball.

But can clouds be hit? The answer is that they certainly can, if the hitter be stationed on top of a mountain, and the clouds be low. He and she evidently are trying to knock the clouds from off the mountain top. Why they should want to do this is a riddle not to be entered upon here, but the obvious difficulty of the proceeding clearly explains why he and she did not do it very well, even though they pooled their resources, and did it together.

This would seem to dispose of the Japanese student's confusion, if the premise be accepted that English is a logical language. But is it?

One of these days we will do as our worst enemy hopes wo will do—write a book.

Scandal that exists is but a small part of the conversatiot that goes around any community.

Wives who dominate their husbands and control their lives rarely raise their voice in argument.

Religion is a vital force in everybody's life but few people agree on anything connected with religion.

Nations, like individuals, will prosper most if they render real service to the people of the world.

The Boy Scouts will take charge of Washington the latter part of the month; the Boy Scouts will really take charge of the nation some year later on.

CHAPTER 36

"CHARLES knew about the will, my dear," said Lutman. "I can assure you that he did. And I'm afraid we must conclude that Jim Asson knew of it, too, and that the whole scheme was a put-up job between them."

"And you—a put-up job between Jim Asson and you," retorted Jacqueline.

The Colonel's face assumed an expression of pained surprise.

"I'm sorry you should think me capable of that, my dear," he said, "but you will change your mind when you have heard the truth. The truth is that I had no idea that any such scheme was afoot. It was only today that I began to have any suspicion. I called to see Charles Stuckey, noticed the will lying on his desk, and while he was out of the room I took the opportunity to glance at it. Until that moment I had no idea that your uncle was dead."

"And that's the truth, Colonel Lutman?"

"Certainly, my dear. I realized at once what was afoot, but I said nothing to Stuckey. I slipped the will into my pocket, brought it away, and locked it in my desk. This evening I intended to call on you, inform you of the facts, and suggest certain steps which should be taken."

"One of the steps being that I should marry you?"

"I hoped so," he admitted. "I still hope so, Jacqueline. If I can only rid your mind of the unfortunate suspicion that I'm not to be trusted. Listen, my dear. I'll show you that I am to be trusted, that you have entirely misjudged me, that you have attributed to me aims and motives which I have never had."

"Well?"

"Give me your promise that you will marry me, and here and now I will hand you your mother's check."

Jacqueline's eyes met his steadily.

"And before we're married, Colonel Lutman," she said, "do I sign another deed handing over $1,500,000 to my future husband?"

The Colonel brushed aside the suggestion with an airy gesture.

"My dear, nothing of the sort. Money is of no importance to me. Your fortune would remain in your own keeping."

"And if I promise, you will accept my word and give me the check now?"

"I have said so, Jacqueline."

She smiled, turned toward the desk, picked up the ash tray with the blackened remains of the check in it, and thrust it into his hand.

"There's no need for me to promise anything, Colonel Lutman," she said. "There's the check."

For some moments the Colonel stared at the ash tray in his hand, with the slightest pucker showing between the eyebrows.

"I've got away with that loot, anyway," remarked Jacqueline.

The Colonel replaced the ash tray on the desk, and as he turned toward her he was smiling again.

"A very pretty piece of work, Jacqueline," he said. "I'm afraid I underrated your skill. But my suggestion still holds good. Now that I have told you the truth. . . ."

"The truth!" exclaimed Jacqueline scornfully. "You've told me lies, Colonel Lutman—nothing but clumsy lies. Do you really suppose I don't understand? You and Jim Asson—you knew I was to get this money from my uncle, but you kept that knowledge from me, got me to sign that deed, tried to force me to marry Jim. And when I turned Jim down, rather than lose the money, you struck the bright idea of marrying me yourself. That's the truth, whatever you may say, and I shall never believe anything else."

The Colonel, stepping quickly sideways, barred her way

She took a step in the direction of the door, but the Colonel, stepping quickly sideways, barred her way.

"Just a moment, Jacqueline," he said. "If you really believe in this preposterous story you've got into your head . . ."

"I do."

"Then may one, without offense, inquire what you propose to do about it?"

"I'm going straight to Mr. Stuckey."

"And when you have discovered the truth about Mr. Stuckey? Remember, Jacqueline, what I have told you. If there has been any underhand work in this affair, Charles Stuckey is the prime mover."

"I don't believe it! I won't believe it."

"'Don't'—I agree. But 'won't'"—He shook his head. "You'll have no choice, Jacqueline. And then what?"

She shrugged.

"There are plenty of other lawyers, Colonel Lutman. And there are always the police."

"Yes—of course, there are always the police," said Lutman. "But there is no need to adopt quite such extreme measures. They might prove—dangerous. If what we suspect is true, Jacqueline, you are up against some pretty unscrupulous characters who, if they suspected that you were appealing to the police, would not hesitate—but we needn't consider these unpleasant details. If you will let me handle this matter for you. . . ."

"You?" She smiled. "You're not serious, Colonel Lutman?"

"Perfectly serious," he assured her. "I am quite seriously suggesting that you should dismiss your groundless suspicions of me and allow me to act for you. As your husband I should naturally do all in my power to safeguard your interests."

Jacqueline made a quick, impatient gesture.

"I see," smiled the Colonel. "So as a prospective husband I still fail to appeal?"

"Once and for all, Colonel Lutman, I don't trust you, I dislike you intensely, and nothing in the world will ever induce me to marry you."

She saw his mouth harden and that steely look come into his eyes.

"Nothing?"

"Nothing."

His eyes were fixed on hers, and as she met their glance she was suddenly afraid.

"'Nothing' is a very comprehensive word, Jacqueline," he said. "Much too comprehensive. I can imagine circumstances in which you might be quite ready to marry me."

Instinctively Jacqueline stepped back from him.

"I—I don't understand," she stammered.

"No? Then you can take it from me that it is so. Even nowadays there are a few things that a girl values and what she is pleased to call her good name is one of them."

Jacqueline made no reply. She realized that her heart was beating furiously and that she was terribly afraid, and again she took a step backward.

"You are going to marry me," continued Lutman. "I have decided that, and, though 'nothing' is a comprehensive word, nothing will make me alter my decision. If you will give me your promise here and now that you will marry me. . . ."

"No!" gasped Jacqueline. "No!"

Lutman hesitated, then came toward her.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

WASHINGTON—The most interesting behind-the-scenes stories in Washington are often cloaked in the most innocent-appearing official announcements.

An instance of this was a one-line White House communication the other day, placing before the Senate the nomination of Tom C. Trimble for federal judge for the eastern district of Arkansas. The item appeared to be a routine appointment, and beyond a perfunctory glance neither the Senate nor the press gallery paid any further attention to it.

It warranted closer scrutiny. Behind the appointment was one of those wheels-within-wheels intrigues that so frequently accompany the filling of an important government position.

The behind-the-scenes actors in this case were Harvey Couch, former member of the RFC and Arkansas' No. 1 utility and railroad tycoon; some Arkansas labor leaders violently hostile to Couch; C. Hamilton Moses, a Couch attorney; Senator Joe Robinson, former law partner of Moses; and Mrs. Hattie Caraway, Arkansas' junior U. S. Senator.

Whether Trimble was Robinson's first choice is not known. Certainly he was not Couch's. Moses was his man.

Unofficial Appointment

Following the death of the incumbent, John E. Martineau, numerous stories appeared in Arkansas papers reporting Moses practically certain to succeed him. So authorative and positive were these dispatches that other aspirants threw up their hands and retired from the scene.

The White House, however, remained strangely silent.

Whereupon Couch came east, followed a little later by Moses. They were preceded by a heated barrage of letters from Arkansas labor leaders to the President, to Robinson, to Mrs. Caraway and to all the members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, bitterly denouncing and opposing Moses' selection.

It is not known whether both Couch and Moses conferred with the President. Couch did. But several days before he went to the White House, a new development entered the picture. Justice Van Devanter announced his resignation from the Supreme Court and overnight Robinson blossomed into the leading candidate for the vacancy.

Couch got no satisfaction from the President. At the same time Robinson, his eyes fixed on the Supreme Court cooled off perceptibly toward the ambitions of his one-time partner. To back the appointment of a corporation and utility lawyer would do Joe's own aspirations no good.

Mrs. Caraway, in her quiet, inconspicuous way, also dropped a pointed hint where it would do the most good that she did not favor the selection of Moses.

It was clearly apparent to insiders that Moses' once bright prospects were as dead as last year's posies. He wasted no more breath on his vanished hopes. He returned to Arkansas and let it be known that he had decided he didn't want the job after all.

With the atmosphere thus cleared and Couch pushed into the background, Joe went to bat for Trimble, another former partner and son of the man who started Joe in the practice of law.

Trimble is no New Dealer. Fifty-seven years old, he is one of the ablest and most widely respected lawyers in Arkansas, has never done any corporation practice, and has had considerable bench experience as a special judge in the state courts.

Diplomacy

Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins, widow of the former Minister to Canada, found herself seated at dinner next to the Canadian Minister to the United States, Sir Herbert Marler.

As the oysters were passed, Sir Herbert initiated the conversation. "Mrs. Robbins," he said, after scanning her place card, "I want you to tell me who you are. Just what do you do in Washington?"

She hesitated. "Well, I'm Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins."

The Minister looked blank.

Then she added, "My husband was United States Minister to Canada."

"Oh, I see," said Sir Herbert, munching an oyster. "I never knew him. No." Then he added, with mose zest, "But why don't you come around to the Legation, and we can get acquainted."

Parran Publicity

The country is going to hear a lot more about venereal disease before Thomas Parran is through. The aggressive Surgeon General, who has been putting hitherto forbidden words on the front pages, has a new publicity campaign in the making.

He reasons that the current type of publicity does not reach those most in need of it. Figures showing the number of children born blind as the result of syphilis are impressive to the general public, and bring a clamor for preventative measures. But that is not possible until victims have been persuaded to go to clinics.

The new campaign will feature posters placed where they will be seen by men. The posters will say nothing about the children of the next generation. They will make a direct appeal to the individual, telling him what the symptoms are of veneral disease, where he can be treated, and—most important of all—that he may go to a clinic without giving his name.

Parran hopes the Public Health Service will establish more clinics throughout the country, but he cannot demand more clinics as long as the present facilities are not fully utilized. His objective is to create a demand for more service and more accommodations to meet that demand.

Father's Day

Professional advocates of Father's Day still point to Bert Snell, Republican Leader of the House, as the great companion of public resognition for Papa. He introduced a resolution urging official recognition for Father's Day in 1919.

Asked about it today, however, Bert snorts:

"Father's Day? I only introduced that measure by request, and that was a long time ago. I have no interest in it now."

Merry-Go-Round

Backed by creditors of the Townsend National Weekly, J. W. Brinton, former editor who quit after a break with Dr. Francis Townsend over the latter's attacks on the President on the Supreme Court issue, will shortly re-assume management of the publication. Under the new set-up it will be published as the organ of the General Welfare Federation, the old-age pension movement organized by Townsendite members of Congress who recently bolted their erstwhile leader because of his political activities. . . . .Politicians certainly are prone to short memories. During the debate on the $1,500,000,000 relief bill, Senator Josiah Bailey fulminated long and loudly against politics in the WPA. Last year he took a leading part in securing the appointment of George N. Coan, Jr., as State WPA Administrator of North Carolina. . . . .The current session of Congress is banging up a new record for donothingness. After nearly six months of work it has enacted only 155 public measures and 164 private (claims) bills. This is the first time in the history of Congress that the number of private bills approved exceeds general enactments.

Diet and Health

By DR. LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

This department has received a number of letters from time to time in the past on the subject of snoring. People have wanted to know what is the cause of it, what it denotes, but especially they have wanted to know how to stop it and why the snorer doesn't wake himself up.

We have hesitated to commit ourselves on the subject because our ideas have been so vague, but at long last, as Edward VIII said, the Journal of the American Medical Association of the American Medical Association has come forward with some remarks which we take the liberty of abstracting as being from an official source:

"Snoring or unusual noises accompanying inspiration or expiration or both in deep sleep, in coma or in deep anesthesia, involve several factors." The noises are produced by the passage of air through regions of partial obstruction to the passage of air.

These regions are, first, in the glottis or voice box, due to the extreme relaxation of the muscles controlling the vocal cords. This allows the vocal cords to hang into the voice box cavity close together, and to be vibrated with the passage of air breathed in and out. The second obstruction is due to the tongue falling into the back of the throat in coma or anesthesia, especially when the patient is lying on his back. Third, the relaxation of the muscles which govern the position of the soft palate which tends to fall against the roof of the hard palate. This would interfere with the passage of the air through the nose if the patient lies on his back. Fourth is the presence of mucus in the nasal passages.

Snore When On Back

A common explanation of snoring is that it is due to the vibration of the soft palate, but this s probably not an entirely adequate explanation, because if the soft palate is completely relaxed and the sleeper lies on his back, the palate is likely to close the passage of the nose and not vibrate at all, but merely force air on through the lips. Anyone can voluntarily produce snoring noises when awake by making a deep inspiration with a partially closed glottis. The noise is made by the intermittent passage of air through the obstructed glottis.

These ideas certainly explain the well-known fact that a sleeper is more likely to snore when on his back. The mucus idea also explains that horrible moment when sounds resembling the prelude to the eruption of Vesuvius are followed by snortings, hawkings, gargling and strainings, until finally the offending liquid is removed or swallowed. It does not explain why the snorer doesn't wake himself up. Nobody on earth has been ingenious enough to bring forward any idea on that subject.

Under the question of treatment the American Medical Association is not very satisfactory. It says, "Snoring is an annoyance to other people rather than to the snorer."

OBJECTIVES FOR WLIDLIFE ADOPTED

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—The wildlife conservation conference called by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark adopted a four-point list of "major objectives" yesterday. They are:

1. That the wildlife problem is essentially one of the proper use of land and water, as no amount of production of fish or game will be enough to replenish the supply without proper food and cover.

2. That enforcement should be under a permanent staff of properly trained men with clear laws to back them.

3. That the public must be "sold" on the idea that the wildlife problem does not consist merely of producing fish and game to be turned loose and caught or shot, and active cooperation of all elements obtained.

4. That stream control is an important part of any program.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—(AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark late yesterday accepted a $2,000,000 endowment fund from Jacob L. and Henry L. Babler, for the 1,800 acre Dr. Edmund A. Babler memorial state park in St. Louis county. The park was named for a third brother.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

M. U. STUDENTS NEED CORN COBS TO ATTEND DANCE

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—(AP)—Forty University of Missouri geology students spending the summer studying in the field at Landers, Wyo., Wednesday sent an "SOS" wire to Governor Stark for 40 red and white corn cobs to be used as admittance tickets to social functions there.

Don Enloes, chairman of the group, said they had been warned they couldn't attend community dances "until we produce as admittance tickets cobs representative of the corn for which our state is famed."

"Since there is a dearth of corn hereabouts, will you please appeal to some civic-minded group to send us some cobs," he wired. The governor said he'd fill the request.

FEAR NO IMMEDIATE WAR IN EUROPE

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Three American publishers and editors returning from Europe today on the liner Rex said they saw no immediate danger of widespread continental war.

Grove Patterson, editor of the Toledo (Ohio) Blade, said he had heard less talk of war in Europe than he had in the United States.

Patterson said he had found Russia gripped by terrorism.

"The improvement in material wealth in Russia—in better food and clothing—is marked, but every man in a high position is panic-stricken. The people themselves don't know what is going on since Stalin's purge began."

Oliver J. Keller, publisher of the Pittsburgh (Pa.), Post-Gazette, said Europe was "overridden by uniforms" but not in any fear of an immediate war.

Paul Block, Jr., son of the newspaper publisher, and a staff member of the Post-Gazette, said he heard little talk of war.

"I was impressed, however," he said, "by the problem democracies face in competing with the high-pressure propaganda machines European dictators have at their disposal to put across any plan they wish."

Grain Commissioner Resigns

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—(AP)—Resignation of J. B. Hopper of Columbia as state grain and warehouse commissioner was announced today by Governor Stark, effective July 1. The governor said Hopper, a druggist, had asked to be relieved because of pressure of other duties.

A new appointee to the place, which pays $4,500 yearly, will be named soon, the governor said.

Prevents Hams Souring

The first precaution to prevent hams from souring is to be sure that the animal is not overheated before killing and to bleed the animal well after killing. All curing vessels should be scalded and the water for the brine or pickle should be boiled before using, says an authority at the North Carolina State college. Rub each ham with salt before packing for cure and, if brine cured, examine brine every few days to see that it covers the entire contents of container. After curing, hang the ham from six to eight feet above fire and smoke to taste. If curing directions are followed and these precautions taken the meat will keep without souring.

Drought-Stunted Sudan

Sudan grass and grain sorghums are among the most valuable forage crops, but these plants may develop prussic acid when growth is interfered with in any way by drought, trampling, wilting, or frosting, says Hoard's Dairyman. This is also true of wild cherry and arrowgrass. Under such conditions there is a chemical reaction between two harmless substances, a glucoside and enzyme. However, any of the forage crops may be cut, cured, and then fed without danger of prussic acid poisoning.

PALMER AND SON FOUND GUILTY IN ABDUCTION CASE

Jury Recommends Leniency For Two Convicted in Conspiracy

NEWARK, N. J., June 24.—(AP)—Ellis H. Parker and his son were convicted by a federal court jury last night of conspiracy in the abduction of Paul H Wendel with a recommendation for leniency.

Just before returning the verdict after a little more than six hours' deliberation in the case which grew out of the Lindbergh kidnaping, the jury had asked Federal Judge Clark whether it could convict with a leniency recommendation.

Judge Clark gave an affirmative answer and added that "such a recommendation would have great weight with the court."

The senior Parker, 65, and veteran chief of Burlington county detectives, and his 26-year-old son, Ellis, Jr., were charged under the so-called Lindbergh law with conspiring to abduct Wendel, a former Trenton lawyer, and obtain from him by force a confession to the Lindbergh kidnaping.

The confession, produced almost on the eve of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's execution, delayed the latter for 72 hours but was repudiated and discredited by authorities.

The verdict was read by the woman foreman, Mrs. Anna Voightlander. Seven other women were on the jury.

The sentence is discretionary with the judge. Although the maximum under the law is the death penalty, Judge Clark in his charge had ruled out that possibility.

COST OF CHARITABLE GIFTS DECREASE

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Rising tax rates are decreasing the cost of charitable gifts in the United States, a lawyer told a convention of the American Library Association today.

Asserting the tax on a $1,000,000 estate has been raised 2,100 per cent in the last ten years, Ralph E. Lum, former president of the New Jersey Bar Association, said:

"Strangely enough, the very height of present tax rates make gifts for charitable, literary and educational purposes increasingly attractive."

Lum said the clause making such gifts—up to 15 per cent of an individual's annual net income—tax exempt was one factor responsible for the saving."

"For example," he said. "A person who has a net income of $80,000 can make a gift of $12,000 at a net expenditure to himself of only $6,600 because the income taxes otherwise payable by him are reduced by $5,400."

MISSING FLORIST RETURNS HOME

Cox, refusing to disclose details of Schaeffer's experiences during the past week, said his client had been taken to a private home here to rest. Schaeffer went to Philadelphia to press his claim to a share in the $20,000,000 Garrett Snuff fortune. He testified in court two days, then disappeared.

Tongue Twisters Test Capacity For Tippling

LeoCarrillo, featured comic in "Hotel Haywire," coming to the Liberty Theatre on Sunday for two days has a jaw-breaking sobriety test, based on some of the tongue-twisters the dialect comedian had to record in one day's work during the filming of the new comedy.

A person who can pronounce these sober, Carrillo says, is a swell dialectician. A man who can pronounce these when his wife thinks he's been drinking can divorce her for mental cruelty. Here are Carrillo's twisters:

"Tell me about his libido, because if ze biologic reflex of his social pattern is tangled around his libido . . . zen he's got agoraphobia."

"From now on you feed him everything he don't like exactly like he dont like it . . . Zere's nutting cures the wish fulfillment from love dreams so quick like rotten cooking."

"We trow a coupla flatfeets on his tail and zen we know where we are . . . You know where he is and ven ve know were he is, ve bring him back vere you are."

In conviction of Ellis H. Parker and son Ellis Parker, Jr., in federal court at Newark, N. J., of conspiracy in the abduction of Paul H. Wendel, leniency was recommended by the jury. The kidnaping, evidence showed, was in an endeavor to force Wendell into a confession in the Lindbergh kidnaping.

Hard to Please?
The sweet young thing was proudly, if not very proficiently, driving her new sports model through a big town.

Arriving at a busy crossing, she found the red light against her. To her annoyance, when the amber and then the green lights appeared she found that her engine had stalled.

Several minutes of frantic fumbling with all the levers failed to start the car, and drivers behind her began to get impatient.

The traffic policeman walked across to her and, touching his helmet, inquired politely, "Haven't we any colors you like, miss?"

HOPES FOR SOLVING OF SLAYING WANE

CHICAGO, June 24.—Hopes of solving the mysterious slaying of Audrey Vallette, blonde party girl, waned today after witnesses failed to pick Mrs. Ruch Freed out of a police showup.

Mrs. Freed, wife of Eddie Freed, manager of a notorious near north side honky-tonk, was paraded before the bright lights at the detective bureau with seven other women last night. A few hours earlier she had surrendered after almost a year's disappearance.

Four persons saw a woman dash from the north side hotel immediately after the hard drinking habitue of the night spots was slain July 2. At the showup they said they were not sure Mrs. Freed was the woman.

Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coughlin commented: "That just about finishes any hope of a successful prosecution." Mrs. Freed had been listed as the only suspect.

The witnesses were employes of the hotel where Miss Vallette was shot to death. The search for Mrs. Freed was started after police found Miss Vallette's diary, a voluminous record of drinking bouts and affairs with scores of men. The diary contained many references to an "Eddie" whom police said was Freed.

Detectives had expressed the belief jealousy over the party girl's attentions to Freed was the motive for her slaying. He had admitted being intimate with Miss Vallette.

Police also had studied reports that Miss Vallette might have been slain for knowing too much about some underworld incidents, and that prominent men had been blackmailed after visiting her.

Mrs. Freed declined to discuss the case. She said her attorneys would do her talking for her. The attorneys pressed for her release today on a writ of habeas corpus.

BIDS BE RECEIVED TO SUPPLY GASOLINE

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—Bids to furnish more than 2,500,000 gallons of gasoline and about 120,000 gallons of motor oil for the next year will be received by the state highway department June 30 and July 2, respectively, C. W. Brown, chief engineer, announced.

State gasoline is furnished to 39 groupings of delivery points over the state, each group having a normal consumption of about 5,000 gallons a month.

The custom in past years has been for concerns to bid to furnish gasoline to one or more groups. Prices are to be in the form of a fixed discount from the tank wagon price on the brand of gasoline furnished at the time and place of delivery.

Six grades of motor oil are used by the highway department. Quotations must be for the net delivery price to any railroad point in the state.

LEE H. SMITH IS NEW COMMANDER

LEXINGTON, Mo., June 24.—Lee H. Smith, Kansas City, was elected commander Wednesday at the annual encampment of the Missouri Department of United Spanish War Veterans.

Smith, former senior and junior vice-commander, defeated Carl Hammer, St. Louis, the incumbent.

Other officers elected were: Louis Wahde, St. Louis, senior vice-commander; W. P. Hull, Springfield, junior vice-commander; the Rev. Charles E. Robinson, Holden, department chaplain, and Dr. W. I. Longstreet, Kansas City, surgeon.

Lebanon was selected for the 1938 encampment.

Those named delegates-at-large were: Henry C. Kundert, A. E. Dunbar, and Robert Alexander, all of Kansas City, and Julius Walter, St. Louis.

Swarming is an evil in modern beekeeping and must be controlled or if possible prevented if profitable honey crops are to be harvested.

FINER FOOD

A Bridge Breakfast

By MARTHA LOGAN

It's just too hot these days to give a bridge luncheon at one o'clock, but we do want our friends to come in for a game. And, of course, good food seems to set the stage for a more successful party. So, what to do?

Well—we watched the thermometer reading in various parts of the house throughout the day and found that at 10 o'clock the dining room was still most comfortable, so we decided on a Bridge Breakfast. "Won't you come and have breakfast with us at 10 o'clock next Tuesday?" the note read. With the added line, "We hope to get in a few hands of bridge before the sun gets in our front windows. We'll try to keep cool and forget the weather broadcast."

So the die was cast and we began thinking up a menu that wouldn't be too much trouble to cook and serve without a maid. Of course, we set the table the night before and had the sweetbreads parboiled and the muffin ingredients all ready to combine. In the morning, it took no time at all to prepare and serve this company breakfast.

My friends seemed to enjoy the food so much [illegible] we are passing on the sugges[illegible] to you.

Baked Sweetbreads on Broiled Delicatessen Ham

Clean the sweetbreads and parboil them as soon as they are delivered to you. Skin and clean. Marinate in French dressing 1 hour. Separate into servings. Season. Dip in beaten egg. Roll in sifted cracker crumbs. Place a thin slice of bacon over each serving. Bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes or until the bacon is crisp and the sweetbreads are browned.

Cut delicatessen cooked ham into slices one-fourth inch thick. Broil to brown. Place a serving of sweetbreads on each slice of ham and serve garnished with a tart fruit preserve or pickled fruit.

Martha Logan Says - - Try Cool Suppers for Hot Days

When the first hot days of June take the edge off the old appetite, it is a welcome sight to see the supper table set on the side porch or in a corner of the lawn. These al fresco meals are a boon to mother, too, if a cold meat platter or a substantial meat salad are used as the piece d'resistance. A favorite in our family is a one platter service of a zestful mock chicken salad, garnished with crisp lettuce, tomato sections, and small cucumber pickles. We serve with this much iced tea, buttered split hard rolls, fresh berries, and cup cakes. Here's my recipe for mock chicken salad that serves as the meal-in-one dish.

Mock Chicken Salad

2 cups cooked pork
1 cup cooked veal
3 cups fluffy cooked rice
½ cup pimiento olives
½ cup diced celery
Seasoning
French dressing
Mayonnaise

Cook, chill, and cube the pork and veal. Chill the cooked rice. Combine meat, rice, olives, celery, and seasoning with French dressing to marinate thoroughly. Chill until needed. Serve on lettuce. Top with mayonnaise and a dash of paprika. Garnish with tomatoes.

Cool Suggestions for WARM WEATHER MEALS

Getting Rid of Weeds

One of the great values of any kind of ground cover, even the very humble ones, is that nature hates bare ground, and if nothing is there she will send weeds to cover the earth. Aside from early, continuous and vigorous cultivation, nothing will keep a border in such a state of weedlessness as to have the soil completely covered with a permitted and chosen growth. Where something rank gains a footing cut off the top, pierce the root with the handy ice pick, and insert several drops of gasoline. This for dock, dandelion, rag weed, thistle and the like. For weeds in a gravel patch, brine from the ice cream freezer will help, or corase dry salt sprinkled on. Or a cheap weed killer is a pint of creosote mixed with a gallon of hot water. Sprinkle the liquid over the paths twice a year.—From House Beautiful.

TESTED RECIPE

By Frances Lee Barton

WARM evenings, informal summer parties, afternoon snacks, were just made for cool fripperies like Chocolate Iceberg — and vice versa. A bit of milk, two tablespoons chocolate syrup, and a blob of ice cream, put together with just a thimbleful of imagination, make a really satisfying and salubrious concoction.

Chocolate Iceberg

1 cup chilled milk; 2 tablespoons Chocolate Syrup; 3 tablespoons vanilla ice cream.

Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Beat or shake well. Pour into tall glass. Add ice cream and serve at once. Serves 1.

Chocolate Syrup

5 squares unsweetened chocolate; 1 cup sugar; ⅔ cup hot water; 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten.

Melt chocolate over hot water; cool to lukewarm. Add sugar to water, stirring until sugar is dissolved; cool to lukewarm. Add syrup to egg yolks, about one-fourth at a time, beating well after each addition; add chocolate in the same way. Then continue beating mixture 1 minute, or until slightly thickened. Turn into jar, cover tightly, and place in refrigerator. Syrup can be kept for several days. Use 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup for 1 cup milk. Makes 2 cups syrup.

NEW RECIPE FOR POTATOES WILL MAKE NICE CHANGE

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Baked Meat Loaf	Potato Kugel
Asparagus	Green Salad
Fresh Pineapple	Fruit Cookies

Tea

We've been serving potatoes baked in their skins, roasted with the meat, fried, hashed brown, creamed and scalloped. So this potato kugel will make a nice change.

Today's Recipes

POTATO KUGEL—Four medium-sized potatoes, two eggs, three-fourths cup flour, one heaping teaspoon salt, one heaping teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth pound melted butter. Grate the potatoes and drain off the water. Add the other ingredients, mixing well. Grease a pudding dish and heat it. Then pour in mixture and bake until brown with firm crust (about three-quarters hour) in medium oven. Recipe makes four generous servings, and should be served hot. May be made with any shortening.

Children and Matches

Careless children, "playing" with matches, are responsible for scores of fires annually in the homes. It is the duty of every thoughtful parent to instill into the young ones, at an early age, a wholesome respect for man's best friend and worst enemy—fire.

Matches, whether of the "safety" type or ordinary "kitchen" variety, are safest when kept in glass. Many homes have two glass containers side by side on the stove—one for unused matches, the other as a receptacle for used ones.

Even when carefully usey by intelligent adults, a useful object lesson may be seen through the transparent walls of the glass jars, occasionally, when a match that is "out" suddenly flares up again. Teach your children that glass is a non-conductor of heat and electricity; that it is a valuable part of the household equipment. And teach them a respect for matches—and their proper use.

BUTTERSCOTCH COOKIES — Two cups brown sugar, three-fourths cup butter, three eggs, one teaspoon vanilla, four cups pastry flour sifted with one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking soda, one teaspoon cream of tartar; add one cup coarsely chopped nut meats. Mix thoroughly and roll into a cylinder. Wrap in waxed paper and put in the refrigerator until morning.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

FEEDING children when released from school is a job at which they can and should be helpful. They can help prepare vegetables, learn to cook simple dishes and carry foods to and from the table.

Vegetables become daily more plentiful as local gardens come into bearing. More fruits are available at lower cost. Fish is fairly plentiful and moderate in price. Poultry is a good value. Veal and lamb are the best meat values. Smoked meats and beef are high. Eggs, butter, and cheese have apparently reached their lows for the season.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus.

EGG DISH IS PRETTY, TASTY, SATISFYING

(By Mrs. Mary Morton)

Menu Hint

Iced Tomato Juice
Goldenrod Eggs Parsley Potatoes
Toast Summer Salad
Strawberry Slice

Iced Tea or Coffee

Warm weather has come and lighter meals are in order. Any egg dish is good for the main dish for dinner—for luncheon, or supper. The goldenrod eggs are pretty when served and taste good. Make the salad of the early summer greens, with a simple salad dressing.

Today's Recipes

GOLDENROD EGGS.—Hard boil as many eggs as you think you will need to serve your family, allowing one egg apiece. Shell and separate the yolks from the whites and chop or dice the white, crumble the yolks. Make a white sauce with one or two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one pint or two cups milk—or one cup milk, according to the number of people you are serving—and when done stir egg whites in and season well. Pour it over toasted slices of bread and over each helping sprinkle the crumpled yolks of the eggs. Serve hot.

STRAWBERRY SLICE.—Make a plain cake recipe and bake in layers. It may be made from the following recipe: One cup sugar, one-fourth cup butter, one egg, one cup milk, one teaspoon vanilla or lemon, two cups flour sifted with a little salt and two teaspoons baking powder. When done cover one layer with sweetened strawberries, put other layer on top, and over it with berries. Serve as is or with whipped cream.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Tuna Chops

We usually think of chops as cuts of meat, but Ginger Rogers has a way of making chops out of tuna, which the screen star likes as a relief from the daily meat dish, and also from the ordinary fish dishes. Three cups tuna, three tablespoons cooking oil, six tablespoons flour, one cup hot milk, one-half teaspoon grated onion, one tablespoon lemon juice, pepper, mace. Worcestershire sauce, one egg, one tablespoon finely minced pimentos, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon minced parsley, fine dry bread crumbs. The fish is flaked very fine, and a white sauce made of the cooking oil, flour and milk. The seasonings and the fish are then added to the white sauce. The mixture is cooled and shaped into cutlets, containing a rounded tablespoon each. Each cutlet is rolled into fine dry bread crumbs, then in the egg, which has been slightly beaten and diluted with a fourth cup of water, and then in the crumbs again. A strand of spaghetti, an inch and a half long, is placed in the end of each of the cutlets to simulate a bone. The patties are then fried in deep cooking oil heated so that it will brown a bit of bread in forty seconds.

The cutlets are drained on brown paper and are generally served, in the Rogers menage, on a big, brightly-colored pottery plate, with asparagus and creamed peas, and garnished with watercress.

This is worth trying some time.

ASPARAGUS TURNOVER COMBINES VEGETABES

By MRS. MARY MORTON

SWEET MILK WAFFLES.—Separate two eggs, and beat the whites stiff. To the beaten yolks add one cup sweet milk and one and one-half cups flour sifted with one tablespoon sugar, one-half teaspoon salt and two teaspoons baking powder. Beat well, then add one-third cup of melted butter and lastly fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on hot waffle iron.

POPPY SEED CAKE—One cup of one-fourth pound poppy seed, one and one-half cups milk, one-half cup butter, one and one-half cups sugar, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, four egg whites, one teaspoon vanilla. Soak poppy seed in three-quarters cup of milk over night. Cream butter and sugar, then add poppy seed mixture. Add flour and baking powder alternately with remainder of milk. Last add beaten egg whites and vanilla. Bake in 350-degree oven 45 minutes.

Girdler Brands Murray Claims As Being "False"

ballot on whether, or not, they want to strike.

"(4) There should be full publicity and public accounting of the financial affairs of every union.

"(5) The responsibility of a union in any contract, or agreement, should be equal to the responsibility assumed by a corporation. Appropriate laws to that end should be enacted."

Claims Law Compliance

Girdler said in answer to senators' questions, that he was complying with the national labor relations act "in every particular" and that he had been dealing "with representatives of our employes" ever since the act became effective.

"Would you object to signing a written agreement between you and an organization of your own employes?" asked Senator Ellender (D-La).

"If our own employes, properly organized, properly responsible, under proper leadership, wanted to enter into an understanding with us on wages, hours and conditions of employment," he replied, "we would meet with them and make an agreement satisfactory to them."

"Who would determine the propriety of their organization, whether it was responsible, and whether it had proper leadership?" demanded Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo).

"I suppose in the last analysis I would have to determine that," Girdler retorted.

"But if you determine who the officers of the union are to be, there would be no real contract," O'Mahoney remarked.

He branded as "absolutely false" Murray's statement that the CIO represented at least 60 per cent of Republic Steel employes.

"My employes tell me that they have organizations of their own in several plants, differing in nature from place to place," Girdler said. "My duly accredited representatives have been dealing with them ever since we started business."

When Ellender inquired how Girdler knew that the CIO did not represent a majority of his workers, the witness answered:

"I am perfectly certain of it. But I don't know how I can furnish figures to prove it without violating the Wagner act."

He agreed, however, to submit figures showing how many men normally are employed in each Republic plant and how many are now working.

"If 60 per cent of your men are members of the CIO, you realize that the Wagner act would compel you to bargain with them?" Ellender said.

"We are dealing with them now," Girdler replied. "Almost every day for example, some men purporting to speak for the CIO consult with the manager of our Warren plant about the strike situation."

"Every since there was a CIO," he added, his representatives had held "conference after conference with men who claim they represent some of our employes."

"I never have tried to determine just how many they represent," he said.

Senator Guffey said it was "common talk in Pittsburgh" that Girdler was asked to resign as head of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company in 1929 for a breach of confidence.

Guffey said Girdler's resignation was asked by Jones-Laughlin "because you gave confidential information of your company to the company you are now with."

Girdler, still in the witness chair, answered quickly:

"That's a lie and whoever told you that was a liar."

"You were talking about irresponsible union officials," Guffey said. "Maybe that's one reason your employes don't want a verbal agreement with you, feeling that if you would give confidential information you aren't responsible either."

Girdler protested the question wasn't "decent." He pointed out that Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) had reproved him for his statement about Guffey.

"If the chairman will remove the ban, I'd like to answer that as it ought to be answered," Girdler said.

"If you considered the C. I. O. responsible, would you sign a contract?" asked Senator Green (D-RI).

"I'll cross that bridge when I come to it," Girdler answered.

"What is the difference between a collective bargain and a signed agreement?" Green inquired.

"There is a great difference," Girdler replied. "You could bargain collectively for 40 days, and then post a bulletin board notice describing the change in wages and hours. You have bargained collectively, all right, but there is no agreement."

Girdler testified "ordinary mail" had been regularly delivered "when the C. I. O. pickets approved it."

"What basis have you for that statement?" demanded Senator Frazier (R-ND).

"A great many conversations, and some mail wrappers marked 'passed by pickets'," the witness replied.

No Good Calling "Liar"

CLEVELAND, June 24. — Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, called a "liar" today in Washington by Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel Corporation, said "the facts speak for themselves.

"There is no more good in Tom Girdler calling me a liar than in my calling him one."

General Strike In Collapse At Warren, Ohio

tered. A large stone struck the side of another automobile as the men went to work under a court order enforced by steel-helmeted National Guardsmen.

Thirty to 50 pickets were on duty but most were ordered away from the plant gates by police. These retreated to a nearby sidewalk. A short time later, National Guardsmen ordered them four city blocks away from the plant.

They complied and the non-strikers, amid two squads of police reserves and the guardsmen, entered without further trouble.

Three rapid fire explosions that were heard for many blocks sent fresh alarm through Warren last night. The explosions were near the Republic Steel plant which hundreds of self-interned non-strikers have kept operating despite the strike.

A plant official, C. R. Wheeler, who said he believed the explosions were caused by giant firecrackers.

The situation at Youngstown is in sharp contrast. At Youngstown the strikers are jubilant over the presence of troops because the soldiers are under orders to keep the four plants of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and Republic Steel closed. Both companies had planned to open Tuesday in response, they said, to petitions from a large number of their employes who want to work.

Here, however, the troops are enforcing a court order which calls for disarming of pickets and for guarantees of safety to workers entering or leaving the plant.

C. I. O. leaders protested to Major General Gilson D. Light, in charge of the militia in the Mahoning Valley, that the steel company was increasing the number of its workers. It was taken under advisement.

No effort has yet been made to relieve Republic's workers at their nearby Niles plant which has been operating.

Representatives of the National Labor Relations Board in Kansas City began hearing a complaint against Montgomery Ward & Co., whose plant has been strike-closed since May 25.

George O. Pratt, regional NLRB director, issued the complaint based on information filed against the company by a C. I. O. unit, charging the company resorted to unfair labor practices.

A Detroit one man (judge) grand jury investigating a riot outside the Ford Rouge plant May 26 called Harry H. Bennett, Ford personal director who supervises the company guards, and an assistant, Everett Moore.

The U. A. W. A., seeking to organize the plant's 89,300 employes, yesterday made its first move since last month's disorder to circulate union propaganda among them by passing out copies of a special "Ford edition" of the United Automobile Worker, its newspaper.

The distribution was made about a mile from the mammoth industrial plant.

Detroit's automotive industry was left with only one strike today, a sit-down at the Kelvinator plant of the Nash-Kelvinator Corporation.

The President's mediation board met at Cleveland with Chairman L. E. Block and other officials of the Inland Steel Co.

Previously the board met representatives as a group and observers wondered if the board would try to deal with each company individually.

Companies agreed to bargain with the steel workers organizing committee, but not to sign a contract with this steel unit of John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization.

Charles P. Taft, board chairman, said the board wanted to get better acquainted with Inland officials who were Wilfred Sykes, assistant to the president; E. L. Ryerson, vice chairman; Clarence B. Randall, vice president, and E. S. Ballard, counsel.

Executives of the other three strike-affected companies also were here, ready to join the conferences after the board had seen Block alone. Present also was Phillip Murray, second in command to John L. Lewis in the C. I. O.-called strike.

Murray proposed that the issues in the steel strike be turned over to President Roosevelt for arbitration.

"We publicly offer today our willingness to accept the President of the United States as the final arbiter in all questions of dispute," Murray told a press conference in Cleveland.

At Perth Amboy, N. J., sitdown strikers held possession of the American Smelting and Refining Company plant as the National Labor Relations Board acted to conduct an election. Police guarded the plant and allowed C. I. O. representatives to take food to strikers inside.

Lure of steaming hot food cut the cast of a sit-in hunger strike by 17 members of the ballet "The Tales of Hoffman," New York City WPA music project.

Twelve women and five men started the protest against cuts in WPA roles but this morning—63 hours later—only nine women and two men remained. Each hour, the strikers sent a telegram to President Roosevelt protesting discharges of WPA employes.

Strikers who forced a shut-down of the huge plant of the Phillips Packing Company at Cambridge, Md., moved toward unionization and negotiations for higher wages. There was talk of a general labor strike there.

Striking mailing room employes of three Pittsburgh newspapers vote against a compromise proposal.

Their strike has forced the Post-Gazette, The Press and The Sun-Telegraph to suspend publication since Tuesday afternoon.

In Washington, the senate labor committee approved legislation to tighten and extend the scope of the Byrnes anti-strike breaking law.

Engineers inspected the Apex Hosiery mill in Philadelphia to determine what damage a group of several hundred sit-down strikers did to the plant during the seven weeks they held possession. Pickets surrounded the mill continuing the strike which started May 6. Sit-downers yielded to a federal court order yesterday and evacuated the plant peacefully.

A group of men threw a bottle of paint through a window of the home of Russell Gates, a mill employe.

The Times-Herald said two CIO organizers were battered and bruised late yesterday after attempting to enlist local Ford Motor Company employes in their ranks at Dallas, Tex.

WARREN, O., June 24.—National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets dispersed a crowd of C. I. O. steel strikers last night as tension heightened along the Mill Valley front amid C. I. O. forecasts of a general strike in Trumbull county.

C. I. O. leaders claimed thousands of workers were joining in a general sympathy strike—in protest against a picket-restraining court order—which they said would "paralyze" the 120,000 population of Trumbull county tomorrow.

By contrast, officials of the Packard Electric and Warren Tool Company, two of several concerns at which C. I. O. leaders claimed employes had voted to strike, said they planned to carry on normal operations tomorrow.

The union protest was also aimed against the movement of non-strikers in and out of the Republic teel plant under protection of National Guard rifles and machine-guns.

With rifles lowered, they came running toward a crowd of several hundred C. I. O. strikers who had surrounded a Chicago (Times) newspaper phtographer, seized his camera and smashed it over a fire-plug.

The crowd retreated, booing and shouting, to a point about 100 yards across the street from the Republic teel plant. The troopers then resumed their positions in front of the plant.

Coupled with the C. I. O.-announced general strike, a statement by John McKeown, C. I. O. organizer, that "a march by 50,000 union men from other cities might be called to protest alleged discrimination against steel strikers, stirred apprehension among authorities tonight.

At the same time, in Cleveland, Frank Purnell, presidnt of Youngstown Sheet and Tube, admitted that despite the renewed day-long efforts of President Roosevelt's federal mediation board to effect a solution, the situation in the 28-day-old steel strike remained "unchanged."

The wide-spread labor controversy has already cost an estimated $12,000,000 and 12 lives.

COPPERS TO FORE ON STOCK MARKET

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Coppers pushed out in front of an irregularly higher stock market today as France sought to match Germany's show of warships in the Spanish crisis.

Steels, which improved unevenly at mid-day on threats of hostilities abroad, took a new lease of life in late dealings following word martial law would be lifted in the Johnstown strike zone.

Gains of fractions to a point or more for the list at large were whittled down in some sections in the final hour.

Volume approximated 500,000 shares.

BODYGUARD AFTER A THREAT ON LIFE

By The Associated Press.

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., June 24.—A bodyguard has been assigned to Dr. George Etling staff physician and psychiatrist at the Rockland state hospital, because of a series of telephone calls and a telegram threatening his life, Chief of Police Fred Kennedy disclosed today.

Dr. Etling was one of the psychiatrists who treated Robert Irwin, sculptor, sought in the Easter Sunday murders of Veroncia Gedeon, artists' model, her mother and a lodger in their New York apartment.

Kennedy said Dr. Etling is in a nervous state because of the messages. The first was a telephone call on June 16 from a man who said the psychiatrist had "only ten more days to live."

The menacing words were repeated in other telephone calls and messages.

Dr. Russell E. Blaisdell, superintendent of the hospital, said one call was traced to a Manhattan grocery store but he doubted the calls were made by Irwin because he believes Irwin is dead.

Helvering said the 17 corporations' total net income, before any deductions allowed by law were taken, was $4,862,824. He said they paid a regular corporation tax of $18,068 and holding company surtaxes of $25,905—a total of $43,873.

Taking assumptions into consideration, the commissioner said it appeared the individual owners of the 17 corporations would have had to pay an aggregate surtax of $1,638,023 if no holding companies had been organized.

Furthermore, the $1,638,023 did not take into account the 4 per cent normal individual income tax, which he said would have increased the amount of taxes avoided.

Bluegrass

Bulbous bluegrass, once thought practical only in regions of heavy rainfall and mild temperatures, has been found adapted to northern areas of moderate precipitation, according to a correspondent in Successful Farming. A patch has been growing for 15 years at Dickinson, North Dakota, where it has produced a good stand in dry years and has successfully resisted low winter temperatures (47 degrees below zero). It is suggested as suited for early poultry and sheep pasture and for pasture mixtures to be grazed by other livestock. It is distinguished by fleshy, bulb-like roots and also by a bulb-shaped seed pod.

Broodiness Inherited

Where only an occasional bird in the flock is broody this can be remedied by using this bird on the home table, but if there is a large number of broody birds then the best thing to do is to dispose of the entire flock. These birds should not be used for breeding purposes as broodiness is an inherited trait and it will be best to start a new flock with baby chicks from a breeder whose flock shows high production.

Agricultural Notes

A wax for wax-picking poultry has been developed.

* * *

A warm, dry place is the right spot to store honey. It should not be kept in the cellar or any damp place, as it will absorb moisture and ferment.

* * *

Milk cows require from 100 to 300 pounds of water daily, it is stated by the Missouri experiment station.

* * *

Most frequent causes of low grade hay are, in the field, late cutting and over-curing; in storage, browning or mow burning of hay; in baling, loss of leaves while baling brittle hay on dry days.

PREDICT PASSAGE OF COURT PLAN

BOSTON, June 24.—Postmaster-General James A. Farley today predicted, "a court plan satisfactory to the President would be passed in this session" of congress.

He declined comment on a statement by Governor George H. Earle, of Pennsylvania that President Roosevelt should run for a third term.

It was too early, he said, to talk about what might happen in 1940, either regarding President Roosevelt or himself.

Evidence in six cases of alleged interference with the delivery of U. S. mail in strike-torn Ohio had been investigated thoroughly by the United States attorney and postal inspectors in that state, he told newspaper men.

Farley stopped here on his way to Old Orchard, Me., to address New England postmasters.

WHEAT ADVANCES THEN DECLINES

CHICAGO, June 24.—(AP)—Wheat fluctuated nervously today, advancing more than a cent a bushel at one stage but then reacting to close below yesterday's finish.

Hedging pressure and profit taking contributed to the persistent selling while high temperatures in some sections of the grain belt, better than three cents upturn in Liverpool wheat and reports of failure of the wheat crop in parts of southwestern Saskatchewan and in stretches of the domestic northwest helped buying.

July corn was lifted more than 2 cents at one stage to $1.20 a bushel.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅜ cent lower, July $1.13⅜ to $1.13¼, September $1.13⅞ to $1.14, and corn was ⅝ cent off to 2 cents higher, July new $1.19¼ to $1.19½, September $1.04⅝ to $1.04½. Oats were ⅛ off to 4 cents up, July soybeans advanced the limit of 4 cents a bushel.

"Oh, you poor creature!" exclaimed the bride, dipping into her bag and handing him some money. "Here you are!"

"Darling," whispered the bridegroom, a few minutes later, "how much did you give that fellow?"

"Ten dollars, dear," replied his wife. "That's little enough to buy a bed with, isn't it?"

KANSAS CITY, June 24.—(AP)—Kansas City's ninth federal vote fraud conspiracy case went to the jury at 8:02 last night.

Closing arguments involving the five defendants charged with conspiring to defraud voters of their franchise rights were concluded before dinner and Judge Merrill E. Otis instructed the jury after a brief recess.

The government rested in midmorning, concluding its testimony in less than two and a half days, and setting a record for speed during the trials held so far.

The defense was even more speedy, resting four hours later. Only two of the five defendants testified in their own defense. The other three sat silently in the courtroom.

Those who testified were Herbert Campbell, member of the city police department, and Mrs. Myrtle E. Middleton, who acted as a Republican judge at the precinct polling place.

The other defendants are Marie Ogden, Republican judge; Don Pasqualino, Democratic worker, and Joseph F. Maher, Democratic precinct captain.

In their testimony, both Mrs. Middleton and Campbell denied having any part in any irregularities which the government claimed took place during election day. Particular emphasis was laid on Mrs. Middleton's acceptance of a Republican judgeship.

Mrs. Middleton admitted she had accepted the job despite the fact that she claimed to be a life long Democrat because some man whom she failed to identify told her it would be all right.

She was given the job of judge after Charles Ellis, the regular Republican judge, had been ordered to get out because he refused to "play ball."

KILLS FOUR IN HIS FAMILY THEN SELF

By The Associated Press.

MURRAYSVILLE, Pa., June 24.—A father killed three of his eight children and his wife, then took his own life today in this western Pennsylvania village.

Coroner H. A. McMurray of Westmoreland county said the father was Arthur W. Crewe, 42, a railroad brakeman.

State police under Sergeant Joseph J. Conwell, asserted Crewe opened fire on the mother while she and the three children huddled in a hallway in their home.

Officers said they found the bodies of the children sprawled near the mother. They were Florine, 10; Doris, 4, and Virginia, 2.

The father ran out the front door with a rifle, police said, and then shot himself.

A son, William, 16, who had hidden in the house during the shooting, ran to a neighbor's house and cried to Mrs. Lawrence Driever:

"Pap's gone crazy. He's shooting everybody."

Mary, 12, and Irma, 7, were returning from delivering milk to a neighbor's home when they saw their father.

Mary said:

"Irma and I were delivering milk to neighbors. Mom and the others were up when we left and Richard had gone to work."

Crewe had driven the 18-year-old son, Richard, to work in the railroad shops only an hour before he returned to the house.

Neighbors said Crewe had been worrying since fire destroyed the family's home last July. Since that time the family had lived in a garage converted into a house.

Crewe had lived for 15 years on a farm between Level Green and Murraysville.

AMERICAN FLIER PLANS HOP FROM U. S. TO MOSCOW

James Mattern Will Attempt Flight Just Made By U.S.S.R. Pilots

OAKLAND, Calif., June 24—(AP)—James Mattern, noted flier, announced plans for a nonstop refueling flight from here to Moscow over the route just flown by the three Soviet airmen.

A new $100,000 twin-motored monoplane has been completed at Burbank, Calif., for the hazardous flight, Mattern revealed after lunching with the Soviet fliers and Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky.

Because the lane has a cruising range of only 5,000 miles it would be necessary to refuel while flying, probably over Fairbanks, Alaska, Mattern explained.

The plane has a robot pilot and Mattern said he had not decided whether to take a navigator along on the 6,000 mile journey.

"I will make the flight to demonstrate the United States development of aircraft, and in appreciation of the Soviet fliers who saved me in 1933 when I crashed in Siberia," Mattern said.

He was to confer with Ambassador Troyanovsky concerning cooperation of the Soviet government in the undertaking. The aviator also expected to receive weather and other information from the Russians. He said his plane would be flown here today from Burbank.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

PITTSBURGH, June 24.—(AP)—This is the land of Panthers and Pirates....He's only got 'em three deep out at Pitt, but already Coach Jock Sutherland has started fearing the two Dukes—Duke and Duquesne. ....The baseball addicts still give the Pirates a good chance for the National League bunting even if they aren't clicking like they did earlier in the season.

Out in Chicago they don't regard the Giants as formidable as last season, but here in Pittsburgh the man in the street says the Terrymen are the ones the Pirates must beat..... One funny angle about the Chicago fight was that there were more ringside seats sold (at $27.50 per throw) than in the $6 and $3 sections.... Mike Jacobs wishes he could figure that out.

That gent in the heavyweight driver's seat is Michael Strauss Jacobs.....With contracts with Schmeling, Braddock and Louis in his pocket, he has 'em all saying uncle....The boys give old Harry Lenny, manager of Ray Impellittiere, a lot of credit for Joe Louis' victory. ....They say Harry tipped Joe how to dodge Braddock's right....Professional football players guarded the dressing rooms of Louis and Braddock....Lou Gordon of the Green Bay Packers parked his 240 pounds in front of Louis' quarters and Jim Mooney, the old Georgetown and Chicago Cardinal star, was in front of Braddock's door.... Joe McCarthy's manager of the Yankees, is trying to squeeze off a little avoirdupois by wearing a rubber shirt under his uniform.

Another Hornsby is on the way up, gents....Down in Palestine (Tex), a Brown farm by the way, a catcher named Mickey Hornsby already has distinguished himself by catching two no-hit games this season....Can't you just see Max Schmeling strutting around the streets of Berlin?....Jimmy Braddock lost his title, but he's in the chips again and the little Braddocks will eat for a while....Jim got about $260,000 for taking that pasting Tuesday night.....After he splits with Joe Gould, pays taxes and settles with Mike Jacobs, he figures to have around $75,000 left. ....Which means he doesn't have to fight until he feels like it.

None of the winners experienced any great difficulty in overcoming their opponents and it was left to Alpert, the league's leading hurler, to provide the feature. The Stewart pitcher chalked up his fourth triumph in as many starts as he gave up only four hits and one run while his mates were gaining an easy verdict over the Savage Producers.

Hubbell's Return to Winning Ways Cheers Flag Chasing Giants

CHICAGO, June 24.—It served as a bit of encouragement to Manager Bill Terry today that Carl Hubbell is back on the winning track, recovered from the mysterious non-winning malady that set in the day the Dodgers broke his two-season winning streak at 24 straight.

But the manner in which his Giants went about providing for Hub's ninth victory of the season, his 8-4, conquest of the Chicago Cubs yesterday, was equally heartening to the man whose club is locked in a bitter three-way struggle for mastery of the National League.

Yesterday's performance, in which the Terrymen landed on four of the Cubs' best pitchers, was gratifying to Terry and a warning to the Cubs, out front by one game, and the Cardinals, tied for second with the Giants in the won and lost column.

Wally Berger, recently acquired from the Bees, poled his first Giant homer and his sixth of the year. Sam Leslie drove in three runs with a home run and a single and Mel Ott, whose batting slump has applied to everything but four-baggers, walloped his twelfth. Hub had a six run lead after three innings.

Even Hubbell, rapped for twelve hits but scored on in only one inning, the eighth, when five straight hits produced all four Chicago runs, chimed in with two singles to aid his own cause and end a 4-game losing streak while pitching a complete game for the first time in seven starts.

VERSAILLES TO MEET ATHLETICS IN RETURN CONTEST HERE SUNDAY

The Sedalia Athletics baseball team will attempt to even the score with the Versailles Midgets Sunday afternoon at Liberty park. The Morgan County team whose winning streak has reached 24 straight games recently defeated the Athletics here in a 15-inning affair which was a thriller from start to finish.

Gene Horner will be out to break this streak and will be opposed by Skinny White who hurled the victory over the A's a few Sundays ago. While Horner uses his blinding speed to an advantage, White relies mostly on a sharp breaking curve and so effective was he against the Athletics that 17 of them fanned the breeze.

However last Sunday the locals seemed to have shaken off a batting slump which has handicapped them this season and they are confident they will be able to take the measure of the Versailles team.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock and should attract a large crowd. The locals are planning to start night baseball the first week in July.

The final round will be played at Jefferson City on June 30.

PROMOTER OF TITLE FIGHT PAYS $29,669 TO USE PARK

LOUIS WANTS WORK "AN' LOTS OF IT"—WOULD GIVE SCHMELING FIRST CHANCE AT THE TITLE

BY EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO, June 24.—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis is looking for work—"An' lots of it!"

The new ruler of ringdom, by virtue of his eight round knockout of James J. Braddock last Tuesday night, which increased his already fat personal bankroll by about $50,000, isn't worrying about where his next meal is coming from. Nor is he planning on going into hiding with his new crown.

"Long layoffs don' do me no good," said Joe as he packed his grips preparatory to leaving tonight for Detroit and a visit with his mother. "I want to fight as offen' as mah managers want me to. I'd like first to meet Max Schmeling."

The way things shape up, Joe won't have to worry about too-long layoffs. Mike Jacobs, the New York promoter who staged Tuesday's title bout, yesterday announced a two-year extension of his contract with the 23-year-old titleholder. The extension gives Jacobs exclusive rights to the Negro's services for the next five years.

A clause in the new agreement provides for as many as four fights a year, with the probability that Louis will see action at least twice annually. Jacobs' principal concern now is landing one more fight this year, with the big objective being a Louis-Schmeling bout in September, in New York.

Jacobs also disclosed he has effected a three-year agreement for for the fighting services of the ex-champion, Braddock. The promoter hopes to land a suitable opponent for Jersey Jim in the fall or early winter, preferably Max Baer.

Braddock left early today with Mrs. Braddock for their New Jersey home. The ex-champion was in good spirits, contending that with two more tough fights he'd be ready to meet Louis again. He still showed the effects of Louis' terrific punching. One eye was still closed while below and above it were two bad cuts. Ten stitches had to be taken in his upper lip.

Torrance Scores First Round Kayo But Weird Bout Lasts 20 Minutes

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 24.—(AP)—Giant Jack Torrance of Louisiana held a one-round knockout victory over Al Pekunis of Elizabethport today but he had to climb off the floor to do it in one of New Jersey's strangest boxing bouts.

Officially, Pekunis was stopped in 2:41 in the first round, but during that time the fighters were in the ring nearly 20 minutes. Referee Jim Manley allowed Torrance one five-minute rest period and Pekunis two.

Pekunis floored Torrance a few seconds after the bell. The Baton Rouge fighter arose at four but was dropped again. Torrance began to get up without a count.

The Jersey battler swung and Referee Manley ruled he had struck Torrance while the latter was down. He ordered a five minute rest.

Torrance came back and quickly dropped Pekunis. This time the latter claimed a foul. Manley gave him a five minute rest. They resumed. Again Torrance floored Pekunis who cried foul once more and argument followed. The referee ended it by calling another five-minute rest period.

When the fight resumed, Torrance knocked out Pekunis.

LEWIS SEES PERIL OF "INSURRECTION"

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—The senate received a warning Wednesday from Senator Lewis (D-Ill) that a strong army must be maintained because labor strife has placed the nation in danger of "insurrection."

Lewis opposed any reduction in the $663,000,000 war department appropriation.

Blaming neither workers nor employers, the bewhiskered senator declared "there is not a state in the union which is not in a condition of riotous suspense."

"America is on the eve of a period similar to that which preceded the civil war," Lewis continued. "Where government is to survive, it must assert itself as government, or it will wither away and die."

GIRDLER BRANDS MURRAY CLAIMS AS BEING 'FALSE'

Chairman For Republic Steel Appears Before Senate Committee

ANSWERS CHARGES WITH DENIALS

Reviews Previous Contentions Offered Against The C. I. O. Forces

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 24. — Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel, told a senate committee today Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee was "a liar" and that Senator Guffey (D-Pa) "doesn't know what he is talking about" with respect to the present steel strike.

Girdler's caustic answer came immediately after he had finished reading a prepared statement in which he said the basic issue of the steel strike "is the right of American citizens to work free from molestation by a labor organization whose apparent policy is either to rule or ruin American industry."

Appearing before the senate postoffice committee to answer charges made against Republic by Murray, Girdler made his assertion in answer to a question by Senator Bridges (R-NH). The senator asked whether Murray's statement was true that the only issue was the question of reducing an oral agreement to writing.

Bridges said Senator Guffey had suggested the same thing at an earlier meeting of the committee.

"Mr. Murray is a liar to the best of my knowledge and belief and always has been," Girdler snapped in reply. "Senator Guffey doesn't know what he's talking about.'

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) immediately asked Girdler to withdraw his remark about Guffey.

Girdler remained silent.

Guffey, who is not a member of the committee but who was seated at the committee table, arose to assert, "it's all right with me if I can have the privilege of asking the witness a few questions after the others are through."

Deny Lawlessness Charge

Denying charges of lawlessness made against the steel companies last week by Murray, the plain-spoken industrialist presented for the record pictures of rifles, dynamite and other weapons which he said Ohio sheriffs had seized from strike pickets.

Girdler demanded that labor unions be made responsible for their acts by law. The CIO movement headed by John L. Lewis, he said, lacks such responsibility and any contract with it "is not worth the paper it is written on."

Murray had testified that the only strike issue was whether the steel companies would sign an agreement already made verbally with the union.

"That is not true," Girdler declared, "there is no such agreement, oral, or otherwise, now in existence."

While members of the committee listened closely, Girdler added at once that his statement did not mean the terms of employment in effect were indefinite, or uncertain. They have been reduced to writing, he said in the form of notices posted in all plants where they apply "and are thoroughly understood by our employes."

The steel executive, pausing to let his words sink in, said 20,000 Republic employes have remained at work throughout the strike "despite threats of violence and many additional thousands have been kept from work against their will."

He reviewed previous charges made against the CIO, contending its goal was to recruit members, not to obtain additional rights for workers. Thousands have protested against the company signing any agreement with the CIO, he said, and added that any such contract "is but the first step to a closed shop and the check-off as John Lewis and other CIO leaders have publicly announced."

Sums Up Contentions

Girdler summed his contentions as:

1—That the CIO has denied the right to work to those who refuse to pay it tribute.

2—That it promotes violence and disregard of law.

3—That the "CIO is associated with Communism."

He denied specifically that Republic has imported strike-breakers. He said interference with the mails by pickets had been proved.

In conclusion, he suggested principles for employer-employe relationships to promote industrial peace as follows:

"(1) Every worker should be free to join or not to join a union as he chooses without coercion from any source.

"(2) No employee should be forced to pay dues to a union against his will.

"(3) All employes should be permitted to take a vote by secret ballot on whether, or not, they want to strike.

"(4) There should be full publicity and public accounting of the financial affairs of every union.

"(5) The responsibility of a union in any contract, or agreement, should be equal to the responsibility assumed by a corporation. Appropriate laws to that end should be enacted."

Claims Law Compliance

Girdler said in answer to senators' questions that he was complying with the national labor relations act "in every particular" and that he had been dealing "with representatives of our employes" ever since the act became effective.

"Would you object to signing a written agreement between you and an organization of your own employes?" asked Senator Ellender (D-La).

"If our own employes, properly organized, properly responsible, under proper leadership, wanted to enter into an understanding with us on wages, hours and conditions of employment," he replied, "we would meet with them and make an agreement satisfactory to them."

"Who would determine the propriety of their organization, whether it was responsible, and whether it had proper leadership?" demanded Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo).

"I suppose in the last analysis I would have to determine that," Girdler retorted.

"But if you determine who the officers of the union are to be, there would be no real contract," O'Mahoney remarked.

He branded as "absolutely false" Murray's statement that the CIO represented at least 60 per cent of Republic Steel employes.

"My employes tell me that they have organizations of their own in several plants, differing in nature from place to place," Girdler said. "My duly accredited representatives have been dealing with them ever since we started business."

When Ellender inquired how Girdler knew that the CIO did not represent a majority of his workers, the witness answered:

"I am perfectly certain of it. But I don't know how I can furnish figures to prove it without violating the Wagner act."

He agreed, however, to submit figures showing how many men normally are employed in each Republic plant and how many are now working.

"If 60 per cent of your men are members of the CIO, you realize that the Wagner act would compel you to bargain with them?" Ellender said.

"We are dealing with them now," Girdler replied. "Almost every day for example, some men purporting to speak for the CIO consult with the manager of our Warren plant about the strike situation."

"Every since there was a CIO," he added, his representatives had held "conference after conference with men who claim they represent some of our employes."

"I never have tried to determine just how many they represent," he said.

Senator Guffey said it was "common talk in Pittsburgh" that Girdler was asked to resign as head of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company in 1929 for a breach of confidence.

Guffey said Girdler's resignation was asked by Jones-Laughlin "because you gave confidential information of your company to the company you are now with."

Girdler, still in the witness chair, answered quickly:

"That's a lie and whoever told you that was a liar."

"You were talking about irresponsible union officials," Guffey said. "Maybe that's one reason your employes don't want a verbal agreement with you, feeling that if you would give confidential information you aren't responsible either."

Girdler protested the question wasn't "decent." He pointed out that Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) had reproved him for his statement about Guffey.

Fair Secretary

Charles W. Green, Moberly, was Wednesday renamed secretary of the Missouri State Fair by Commissioner of Agriculture Jewell Mayes for the coming year with approval of Gov. Stark, according to announcement made through the commissioner of agriculture's office in Jefferson City.

Mr. Green was first appointed in the spring of 1933 and has operated four fairs up until the present time. The 1937 fair will be the fifth fair for Mr. Green, and is anticipated to be one of the best. He succeeded W. D. Smith.

SOCIAL SECURITY AFFAIRS TO A FIVE MEMBER BOARD

Governor Appoints It To Supervise New Setup In Missouri

PENSION AID GO TO 20,000 MORE

George Hayworth Is 'Borrowed' as Acting Administrator

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—Governor Stark today announced appointment of George Haworth of Carthage as acting administrator of the new social security law, which he signed last night. Haworth is being "borrowed" from the WPA, for which he is the Joplin district administrator, the governor said.

Haworth's salary will be $6,000 yearly. The announcement followed closely the governor's naming of the five-member, non-partisan state social security commission to supervise administration of the law which combines old age assistance, child welfare activities, and relief under one new setup.

Commission members were announced last night following signature of the Casey social security bill, which put it into effect immediately.

The commission and the administrator will supervise expenditure of $48,000,000 in state and federal funds during the rest of 1937 and 1938.

"Haworth has made an outstanding record in the Joplin WPA district," the governor said. "He will take charge of social security administration until a permanent setup is accomplished."

Haworth is a director of a Carthage bank and former general manager of the Harry Payne Whitney mining interests in the tri-state district, which involved supervision of a large force of men, the governor said.

The new setup went into effect last night when Governor Stark signed the Casey Social Security bill and named the commission to administer it.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—(AP)—The Casey social security bill consolidating administration of old age assistance, relief and child welfare activities under one head went into effect last night when Governor Stark signed it.

The governor also named the five members of the non-partisan commission which will supervise administration of the new law.

They were:

William T. Kemper, Kansas City banker and business man, chairman.

Dr. E. L. Morgan, Columbia, head of the department of rural sociology at the University of Missouri, vice-chairman.

W. T. Nardin, St. Louis, president of the Pet Milk Company there and prominently identified with Chamber of Commerce and community fund activities.

Mrs. Arthur B. McGlothlan, St. Joseph, president of the Missouri Association for Social Welfare.

Wallace Crossley of Warrensburg, present state relief administrator and former lieutenant governor.

Governor Stark must later, with the advice of the commission, name a state administrator, who will be paid a salary of $6,000 yearly.

Signature of the new law will make possible addition of 20,000 names to the old age assistance rolls, which will total approximately 7,3000 with the payments to be made between July 1 and 5, it was said.

These 20,000 have been held off the rolls since January 1, though certified as eligible, pending legislative action to change the assistance law.

The welcome checks to the 20,000 who have thus far received no old age pensions will average between $12 and $13 for the first month, the same as received by those already on the rolls. They have been averaging about $11 monthly.

With a $17,000,000 state appropriation and matching federal funds, officials expect a gradual increase in the average monthly assistance check up to about $20. Some checks will range as high as the $30 maximum, others far below the average, the amount being based on need.

There will be no break in administration of old age assistance or relief activities under the new setup, as Governor Stark has asked that present administrative personnel remain until the new officers formulate their plans.

Col. Allen M. Thompson, present old age assistance commissioner, said tonight his department had a skeleton organization in each county ready to take over the work under the new setup until the new commission selects its own staff.

Jail For Assault

George Kaley pleaded guilty in the circuit court yesterday to assault and was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

RETIREMENT BILL AWAITS SIGNATURE

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Revised railroad retirement legislation required only President Roosevelt's signature today to become law.

Murray W. Latimer, chairman of the railroad retirement board, said it would be put into effect immediately.

The Wagner-Crosser bill, revising the 1935 retirement act, went through the senate without opposition yesterday, after a single vote had been cast against it in the house.

Proponents said quick presidential approval was assured.

The legislation provides annuities up to $130 a month for the nation's 1,150,000 railway workers upon retirement because of age or disability.

Separate legislation providing taxes to be shared equally by the roads and their employes remains to be enacted.

INSURGENTS SINK A FREIGHTER OFF SPANISH COAST

By the Associated Press

The insurgent cruiser Baleares went into action and sank a Spanish government freighter today in the midst of international tension about Spain's shores.

The Baleares' eight-inch guns sent the little freighter Trinidad to the bottom within a few minutes seven miles at sea, outside French territorial waters off Port Vendres, France.

The Trinidad's crew of seven was captured.

The German official news bureau reported that another insurgent cruiser captured the Soviet freighter Kuban with a heavy cargo of "armaments."

With the British doing their best to calm the situation created by German-Italian withdrawal from Europe's "hands off Spain" patrol, Italy effected a measure which might mean much in any real Mediterranean fuss.

Il Duce created a new naval base at Tripoli commanding British Empire "life-line" passage toward Suez.

Berlin sent two-thirds of her most powerful warships to Spanish duty. But London let Germany know that any aggressive act by the Reich's massing men of war in Spanish waters would be looked upon "most seriously" by his majesty's government.

France matched the German show of force. A French warship fleet anchored at Bone, Algeria, due south of Italy's Mediterranean island of Sardina, after secret night maneuvers.

In spite of the tension, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden urged the house of commons to accept with "great reserve" any excited reports of German naval movements after Italo-German withdrawal from Europe's "hands off Spain" patrol.

A YOUTH 23 IS GIVEN DEATH IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

LONOKE, Ark., June 24.—(AP)—Lester Bockelhurst was convicted late today of the hitch-hike killing of planter Victor A. Gates and fainted at reading of the penalty—death in the electric chair.

"My boy, my boy," screamed his mother, Mrs. L. W. Brockelhurst, Sr., of Galesburg, Ill., and gathered him in her arms.

The 23-year-old former Sunday school teacher was carried moaning back to jail, where his feminine companion of highway trips between Salt Lake City to New York, Bernice Felton, awaited trial tomorrow on a similar charge.

Brockelhurst's father also was overcome by the verdict.

Frank Monroe

Administrator of the fourth district WPA, composed of fourteen counties with headquarters in Sedalia, who has been appointed assistant administrator of the new second district, in which the Kansas City and Sedalia offices are merged.

BAN SIGHTSEERS AT STATE PRISON

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—All sightseers are barred from the state penitentiary here indefinitely because of an extended building program now getting under way, Warden J. M. Sandrs announced today.

Sanders said relatives and members of convicts' families will be permitted to visit them once a month, effective July 10. Heretofore they were allowed two visits a month.

The rule against sightseers went into effect today.

The warden explained the restriction was necessary because of the large number of workmen who must be passed in and out of the main gate.

Building projects at the prison include a new administration building, hospital, cell block and garage. A dormitory, recently completed, will be ready for occupancy when equipment is installed.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL FOR HIKING GASOLINE TAX

Nine Other Bills Given Approval By Executive Today

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—The bill hiking the gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents was signed today by Governor Stark.

It becomes effective December 7, 1938, when the present constitutional limit of 2 cents expires, and is expected to yield an additional $6,000,000 yearly for road building purposes.

The governor made no announcement as to his action on the measure also passed by the legislature, which would cut passenger automobile license fees in half.

The gasoline tax increase bill was strongly urged by the administration, as essential to provide funds for building rural roads after the last of the money from the $75,000,000 bond issue is spent, and as interest charges on it increase.

The governor also signed nine other bills, including the uniform narcotics law, the act creating a new three-member parole commission, and the "dog law."

The narcotics bill requires that state and city officers enforce provisions similar to those of the Harrison anti-narcotics act in the federal field. It was sponsored by Senator Phil M. Donnelly of Lebanon.

The three-member commission to be setup under the parole bill will take over functions of the present penal board with respect to paroles at the state prison and Algoa reformatory. The measure was passed as a result of a study made by a committee headed by Rep. Suggett L. Edwards, Audrain county. Commission members will be paid $3,000 each yearly. The lieutenant governor and two to be named by the governor constitute the commission.

The "dog bill" allows counties to vote a dog tax of $1 for males and $3 for females, proceeds to be used to pay farmers for livestock or poultry destruction caused by dogs.

Five other bills signed included: A measure by Senator Allen McReynolds, Carthage, to require use of Missouri products in state construction. It goes into effect immediately.

A bill restoring advertising of optometrists, and specifying practices to be regarded as unethical.

A bill by Senator W. G. Lockridge, Fayette, authorizing the university extension service to cooperate with the federal department of agriculture in administering the soil conservation act.

A bill by Senator M. E. Casey, Kansas City, requiring that copies of health and accident insurance policy forms be deposited with the state insurance commissioner before policies can be sold.

A bill allowing the penal institutions at Boonville and Chillicothe to give board and room to employes as part of their pay.

COUNTY PENSIONERS TO BE INCREASED

There are at the present time 725 men and women in Pettis county seventy years of age or over, who are receiving old age pensions and after August 1 that number will be increased by at least 135.

Under the direction of Clifford Wood, a case worker for the old age assistance board, a number of pending applications have been investigated, or others re-investigated. They were passed on by the board, Emmett Sullivan, Mrs. Malcolm Scott and L. L. Stuart, and will be sent to the state old age assistance office in Jefferson City for payment to begin in August.

Letters of Administration.

Letters of administration were issued in the probate court, by Judge J. E. Smith, to J. T. Hotsenpiller, on the estate of John W. Fowler, who died January 3, 1936, in a government hospital in Arizona.

ESTABLISH FIVE DISTRICTS OF THE WPA., IN STATE

Sedalia Headquarters Be Shifted To District 2 at Kansas City

ANNOUNCED BY MATTHEW MURRAY

Frank Monroe of This District Be Assistant Administrator

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 24.—Consolidation of the WPA administration into five districts with headquarters at Moberly, Kansas City, St. Louis, Farmington and Springfield was announced today by Matthew Murray, state administrator.

The Moberly district will include all the 44 counties north of the Missouri river, Murray said.

The consolidation will take effect July 1.

Administrators of the five districts reduced to that number from 11, will be as follows:

District No. 1, Moberly—Henry Reidel, district administrator, formerly of the Hannibal district; Jim Holman, assistant, formerly head of the Moberly district.

District No. 2, Kansas City—Charles G. Haake, remains as district administrator; Frank Monroe, now head at Sedalia, assistant administrator.

District No. 3, St. Louis—Same as at present with Lloyd Greathouse in charge.

District No. 4, Farmington—Geo. Snider, administrator at Flat River heads the new district, with Charles Blanton, Jr., now head at Sikeston, as assistant.

District No. 5, Springfield—George Haworth, now head of the Joplin district, in charge, with Guy Wade, now head at Springfield, as assistant. Haworth was "borrowed" by Governor Stark today as acting state social security administrator.

Noble Aldrich, now district administrator at St. Joseph, and William Zavely, administrator at Sikeston, will be brought into the Jefferson City office, Murray said.

Part of the present lesser administrative personnel will be retained under the shakeup and part dropped, Murray said.

A saving of $25,000 or more a month, or 20 per cent, will be made by the readjustment, he explained. Administrative costs now run from $121,000 to $125,000 a month, and will be reduced to $95,000 by the consolidation.

Murray said reduction in WPA work and belief that economies should be effected accounted for the change.

When the new setup goes into effect about 62,000 men will be employed, with the load "pretty well balanced" between the districts, Murray commented.

The Moberly, Farmington and Springfield districts will employ about 10,008 each, the St. Louis district something over 13,000, and the Kansas City district about 13,000.

The new first district at Moberly includes three present districts, with headquarters at St. Joseph, Hannibal and Moberly.

The new second district at Kansas City takes in the old fourth district, with headquarters at Sedalia, and the Kansas City district. It includes the following counties:

Jackson, Lafayette, Saline, Cooper, Pettis, Cass, Johnson, Bates, Henry, Benton, Moniteau, Morgan, Henry, St. Clair, Vernon and Cedar.

The St. Louis district is unchanged.

The fourth district, headquartering at Farmington, replaces the old fifth, sixth and ninth districts, with headquarters at Rolla, Flat River and Sikeston.

It includes these counties:

Camden, Laclede, Miller, Cole, Pulaski, Osage, Maries, Phelps, Gasconade, Franklin, Crawford, Dent, Jefferson, Washington, St. Francois, Iron, St. Genevieve, Perry, Reynolds, Cape Girardeau, Bollinger, Madison, Wayne, Carter, Ripley, Butler, Stoddard, Scott, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot and Dunklin.

The fifth district at Springfield, consolidating the old Springfield and Joplin districts, includes these counties:

Shannon, Oregon, Texas, Howell, Wright, Douglas, Ozark, Webster, Christian, Taney, Hickory, Dallas, Polk, Greene, Stone, Dade, Lawrence, Barry, Barton, Jasper, Newton and McDonald.

Fifty-eight Employes Here

Frank Monroe, administrator of the fourth WPA district, who will be affected by the change in districts as announced today by State WPA Administrator Murray, was out of town today and could not be reached for a statement. It is understood, however, that under the present plan Mr. Monroe will be located in the Kansas City office, as will be the employes in the local offices who are chosen to remain with the setup.

Mr. Monroe received his appointment as fourth area district administrator on July 1, 1935, and a month later the offices were opened in the Terry hotel building. There are now fifty-eight employes here with an administrative payroll of about $10,000 a month.

STEEL CONCERNS REFUSE PLAN TO HOLD UNION VOTE

Martial Law Is Lifted at Johnstown Strike Front

CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—(AP)—The governor of Ohio lifted his "status quo" restrictions in the Mahoning Valley, hot spot of the steel strike, tonight, ordering the troops to see that steel employes who want to work "shall enjoy the privilege without being molested."

Almost at the same time, the two companies operating plants in the Mahoning area—Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube—issued these identical statements refusing to request of President Roosevelt's mediation board for a "man-to-man discussion around the conference table" with C. I. O. representatives.

CLEVELAND, June 24.—President Roosevelt's steel mediation board disclosed tonight four strike-affected steel companies had rejected a proposal that union elections be held in their plants to decide the contract issue.

It suggested that company and union executives meet with the board in a "man-to-man discussion" as the only means of settling the strike.

As the board made the plea, martial law was lifted in Johnstown, Pa., where the Cambria warks of Bethlehem Steel Corp., has been strikebound for a week, and the bitter batile between strikers and non-strikers gave every indication of being resumed tomorrow.

Under the mediators' proposal the committee for industrial organization steel union and the four independent steel companies would sign an agreement "to become effective only if the union wins an election."

First, the 29-day-old strike would be called off. The 100,000 idle men in seven states would return to work.

Then, a secret ballot would be held in the plants of Republic, Bethlehem, Inland and Youngstown Sheet and Tube companies, "the agreement to go into effect if the union wins and to be torn up if the union loses."

The board urged the antagonists "either to accept the terms of settlement which we have proposed or to work out other terms by mutual agreement in joint conference."

The mediators said they felt the only hope of settlement lay in such a joint meeting to allay "the bitterness and suspicion which separate the two sides."

Steel executives walked out of what they described the "final" conference with the federal mediation board tonight as a C. I. O. spokesman offered to accept the President as arbiter in the 7-state steel strike.

Quitting the conference, the steel officials refused to say whether peace negotiations had broken down completely.

They departed with the cryptic remark that they understood today's meeting with the federal mediators was the "final conference."

New tension spread along the Johnstown, Pa., front tonight when Gov. George H. Earle ordered martial law lifted in the strike-embattled area, effective at 7 a. m., tomorrow.

The governor said the Johnstown mills, shut down last Sunday when 450 state police and highway patrolmen marched into the trouble zone, may re-open at 7 a. m., and that the order for maintenance of the status quo—as requested by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins—would be rescinded.

Immediately, James Mark, C. I. O. strike leader at Bethlehem Steel's big Cambria works, said the union "will resist to the best of our ability" 'any attempt to reopen the mills tomorrow.

GENERAL STRIKE IN COLLAPSE AT WARREN, OHIO

New Back-To-Work Move Gains Impetus—Appeal To President

MEDIATORS FAIL TO BRING ACCORD

Youngstown Mayor In Plea For End To "Unlawful Conditions"

WARREN, O., June 24.—A C. I. O.-fostered general sympathy strike collapsed today while at Youngstown further along the Ohio steel valley strike front, a new back-to-work movement gained impetus with a telegraphic appeal to President Roosevelt asking aid to reopen strike-bound mills.

Mayor Lionel Evans of Youngstown wired President Roosevelt to end "unlawful conditions" so that the steel plants might resume operations under the protection of National Guard troops.

The Youngstown mayor also telegraphed Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio saying it was now apparent "that there will be no agreement reached between the steel companies and the unions through the mediation board."

As the federal board renewed peace negotiations in Cleveland with representatives of the four C. I. O. sieged independent steel companies—Republic, Bethlehem, Inland Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube—Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel clashed with members of the senate postoffice committee in Washington, D. C.

Five manufacturers closed their plants in Warren and Niles.

Concerns closed today normally employed approximately 1,000 men in this industrial city of 40,000.

Strikes were called in many Warren plants yesterday in a move for a projected general labor holiday as a protest against a court injunction limiting picketing at the Republic Steel plant in Warren.

The action, also, was a sympathy move against the movement of men and supplies into the Republic plant under protection of city police and the Ohio National Guard, sent to the Mahoning Valley by Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio to maintain the steel "status quo" while the federal mediation board continued its deliberations in Cleveland.

Says Action "Spontaneous"

Gus Hall, S. W. O. C. organizer, said "there will be no general strike for the present." He added that the C. I. O. had not issued a general strike call, saying the action of local unions was spontaneous.

"I am mighty glad it didn't happen," said Mayor G. A. Bjorson of Warren.

The general strike threat was abandoned after police reserves were ordered out today to protect non-strikers entering the Republic Steel Corporation plant.

Stones Hurled at Cars

Stones were hurled at several of the 100 to 200 automobiles, carrying one to five men each, as they drove by Pine and Walnut streets and through the plant gates for the 7 a. m shift.

The window of one car was shattered. A large stone struck the side of another automobile as the men went to work under a court order enforced by steel-helmeted National Guardsmen.

Thirty to 50 pickets were on duty but most were ordered away from the plant gates by police. These retreated to a nearby sidewalk. A short time later, National Guardsmen ordered them four city blocks away from the plant.

They complied and the non-strikers, amid two squads of police reserves and the guardsmen, entered without further trouble.

Three rapid fire explosions that were heard for many blocks sent fresh alarm through Warren last night. The explosions were near the Republic Steel plant which hundreds of self-interned non-strikers have kept operating despite the strike.

A plant official, C. R. Wheeler, who said he believed the explosions were caused by giant firecrackers.

The situation at Youngstown is in sharp contrast. At Youngstown the strikers are jubilant over the presence of troops because the soldiers are under orders to keep the four plants of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and Republic Steel closed. Both companies had planned to open Tuesday in response, they said, to petitions from a large number of their employes who want to work.

Here, however, the troops are enforcing a court order which calls for disarming of pickets and for guarantees of safety to workers entering or leaving the plant.

C. I. O. leaders protested to Major General Gilson D. Light, in charge of the militia in the Mahoning Valley, that the steel company was increasing the number of its workers. It was taken under advisement.

FARM PRODUCTION PROBLEMS

Domestic consumption, foreign demand, soil conservation and farm income are the four yardsticks for measuring farm production set forth recently by the Bureau of Agriculture Economics.

As to domestic consumption, the bureau says, a population of 130 million of persons forecast as the average for the next five years would require about 265 million acres of harvested cropland to provide the same amount of food and fiber per person as in 1920-1929.

In addition the U. S. will need feed for slightly less than 14 million head of work stock used in producing.

Allowing two acres of grain and one acre of hay per head, slightly more than 40 million acres would be needed. That would put the total up to 305 million acres.

To meet those requirements America has a farm plant of about 365 million acres. The U. S. has more than 60 million acres of cropland that is apparently not needed and brings up the question of can the United States hope to sell the production of 60 million acres in foreign markets during the next few years.

Several forces are working to increase foreign trade for American farmers but great advances of export cannot be looked for.

The next question is should the United States reduce production. The Bureau claims, "when production is low farm income can be increased." There is, however, a level below which it is not to the advantage of the farmer to reduce farm output.

No single yardstick of the four is enough to solve the farm problem, "the bureau says," all must be taken into consideration in arriving at a decision on farm-production policy".

The bureau is making every effort to solve the problem of farm production for farmers in the United States.

AGE VARIANCE IN MARRIAGE

The older a man grows, the younger he wants his bride to be in comparison with his own age, according to the statisticians of a leading life insurance company, who base their statement on statistics of first marriages in New York State, exclusive of New York City.

Young brides choose their partners over a wider range of ages than young men do. In the case of a 21-year-old bride, the average age of the groom is 23.7 years, a difference of 2.7 years, while the average choice of a young man of 21 is a bride only 1.1 years younger, or 19.9 years of age.

The later a girl marries, the more nearly like her own, on an average, will be the age of her groom. For women who marry at age 25, the groom's age on an average is 26.8 years, or less than two years in excess of the bride's. At age 30, a woman chooses for her husband on an average a man about one year older than herself; and for ages of the bride above 30, there is little difference on an average between the age of bride and groom.

The situation is quite different with man. The older a man is at his first marriage is the disparity of ages between bride and groom likely to be. A man who marries for the first time at age 25 chooses, on an average, a bride 22.3 years old; at age 30, his bride on an average is 24.9 years old, at age 35, her average age is 27.8, and at age 40,, it is 31.9; thus the difference in ages ranges from 1.1 years for a groom of age 21 to 8.1 years for a groom of age 40. The statisticians point out that an important social problem is involved in this wide difference in the age of husband and wife in the case of man marrying relatively late, for it tends to increase the risk of widowhood and orphanhood.

"The chances of these unfortunate states become great," the statisticians declare, "not only because it is the husband who is usually several years older than the wife, but also because the male suffers from a higher mortality than the female. This situation would be accentuated in a population in which there were a substantial amount of postponement of marriage, particularly on the part of the male, for the difference between his age and that of his bride tends to become greater as the age of the groom increases."

FOIL THE SUMMER BURGLAR

Summer is here — and the burglar is getting out his housebreaking tools. There are six burglary, robbery and theft losses for every fire loss, according to the Association of Casualty and Curety Executives. The vacation months, when so many residences are empty and unguarded, provide ideal working conditions for the housebreaker. He does not have to be wary of sleepers who may wake momentarily and sound an alarm. He need have no fear that a dog's angry barking will reveal his presence. He can work leisurely and thoroughly.

If persons who are leaving their homes unoccupied even for a short time this summer will take the following precautions, they will add greatly to their protection and peace of mind:

1. Lock securely all doors, windows or other entrances to the house.

2. Inform the police that your house will be empty. They can keep watch on it and try the doors and windows at regular intervals.

3. Take with you or lock securely all jewelry, silverware, furs, valuable clothing and other articles easily converted into cash by a thief.

4. Be sure to suspend all deliveries, such as milk, papers, mail. A heap of newspapers or milk bottle son a porch are sure sign that a house is unoccupied.

In view of the increasing widespread of burglary hazard to property, local citizens should take extra precautions at this time of the year. That is the most effective way they can aid crime control in the community.

WHY NOT GET STARTED?

From the New York World-Telegram.

President Roosevelt says he thinks that public employes should pay income taxes on the same basis that private citizens pay. That is fine.

The President also says he believes there should be no such thing as tax-exempt securities—which means that governmental securities of all kinds should be subject to the same taxes to which corporate securities are subject.

But, says the President, there seems to be something called constitutional law which inhibits taxation without discrimination. That is true. The Supreme Court in a long line of decisions has held that a salary paid by a state or a subdivision thereof cannot be taxed by the Federal Government and that a Federal salary cannot be taxed by a state government; also that Federal securities are exempt from state and local taxation and that the securities of states and subdivisions are exempt from Federal taxation, and the income from such securities likewise exempt.

So says the President, there seems to be nothing that can be done about it except to amend the Constitution. That is true only in part—the Federal Government could, without waiting for an amendment, tax the income of all securities it issues hereafter. But let us grant what the President says—for it is true that the amendment method is the only way to remove all discriminations.

And, adds the President, getting an amendment adopted takes a long, long time. Uttering that last truth, he lets the subject rest.

There it still rests. And there it will continue to rest—Until the President or somebody in Congress gets interested enough to start the amendment on its long, long trail.

They often talk about a man being fat and funny often because he thinks he is as attractive to the girls as he was when he was young and slim-waisted.

With the arrival of warmer weather Liberty Park is proving a most attractive spot with its numerous picnic parties and other gatherings there as well as the soft ball games, wrestling matches and other events coupled with the start of a series of band concerts.

CAR DRIVEN BY A TEXAS WOMAN STRIKES A CHILD

Mrs. Juanita Love Driver of Auto That Crashed Into a Porch

Winfred Cole, three years old, daughter of Mrs. Maude Cole, 538 West Saline street, was severely injured about 7:30 o'clock Saturday night when knocked from her tricycle while riding on the walk in front of her home, when Mrs. Juanita Love of Marshall, Texas, lost control of her can and it ran over the sidewalk, jumped a small retaining wall, and crashed into the front porch of the residence shearing it from the house and coming to a stop against a fence just east of the dwelling.

According to the officers the woman apparently was driving at a fast rate of speed east on Saline street and as she approached a to the south side of the pavement "jog" in the thoroughfare, swerved, ran into a small ditch and in manuvering the car out sped across the pavement over the sidewalk and into the house.

Ben Shane, 320 West Saline street, is declared to had a narrow escape, saving himself by jumping as he saw the speeding car come rushing towards the sidewalk. He was unable to reach the child to keep her from being struck.

The woman then asked Roy Spears, 821 West Tenth street, who had stopped at the scene of accident, to take the child to a doctor. Mr. Spears thinking the child was that of the driver of the car picked her up and rushed to the Bothwell hospital.

The child received a severe laceration on her forehead which necessitated the taking of several stitches, also a laceration on the left knee, and bruises about the body. She suffered shock. Dr. C. D. Osborne administered medical attention.

The exact nature of her injuries cannot be determined for at least twenty-four to forty-eight hours, it was said.

Persons attracted to the scene pushed the car back from the fence, the woman got into the car and she drove off, bystanders stating she told them she was going to the hospital. However, it was reported, instead she drove about town and down onto Second street, parking the car across from the police station.

In the meantime Officers Lawrence Englund and Emmett O'Brien had gone to the scene of the accident and when th ecar parked across from the police station a definite description had not been received at police headquarters. Upon their return the car was noticed, its two left fenders and running board being smashed, the officers decided to await the return of the driver.

A few minutes later Mrs. Love approached from the north on Osage avenue and Officer O'Brien called to her to come to the police station. She told them she had just borrowed the car.

At first she gave the name of Juanita Moore, but later told Chief O'Brien, who had called from his home, that her name was Love and she resided in Texas.

Chief O'Brien ordered her held in the county jail pending investigation. Charges will probably be filed Monday morning the nature of them not being given Saturday night. The woman was driving a 1936 Oldsmobile sedan which is being held by the police.

Mrs. Love is the wife of O. H Love of Marshall, Texas and she is visiting relatives here.

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF ASSAILANT

No information has been revealed as to identity of the assailant who "slugged" Mrs. Mabel Fisher, 913 East Fourth street, as she walked west on Third street near Vermont avenue, about 9:30 o'lcock Friday night.

Persons who saw the man flee, said that their attention was attracted by a thud and a scream by Mrs. Fisher. They rushed to her side and she appeared to be unconscious and lying on the grass.

The man ran south on Vermont and up an alley. They did not give chase fearing the person might have a gun.

By the time the police were notified and they arrived on the scene, Mrs. Fisher had been revived. She was taken to the Bothwell hospital where Dr. E. C. Snavely treated her for an injury over the left eye, and she was then taken to her home.

Mrs. Fisher told the police she was going to the skating rink at the park when the man slipped up on her and struck her in the head. She said she could not identify her assailant.

A report was made that last Thursday night a woman residing in West Sedalia was followed from Third street and Ohio avenue west. The woman hurried west and crossed over to Fourth street on Harrison avenue and entered the home of a friend after she was aware the man was following her. She said the man at no time made any threats nor did he approach her.

BEGIN WORK TO REMODEL STATE FAIR BUILDINGS

Eighty-Nine Men Start On $34,888.04 WPA Construction Project

A $45,000 project to improve grounds and buildings in preparation for the 1937 Missouri State Fair was announced Saturday by Charles W. Green, secretary of the fair.

A wide-spread program financed by $34,888.04 in WPA funds and approximately $10,000 in state appropriations for the remodeling of exhibit buildings, improvement of stock barns, repaiting interiors and the construction of fences and sidewalks, already has begun at the fair grounds west of the city.

The WPA project enlisting an army of 89 workmen under the supervision of Robert Hogan are undertaking the major improvements.

The WPA program calls for the partial raising and remodeling of the large running horse barn located at the southeast end of the race track. Modern rest rooms and showers will be constructed in the building and connected with the fair grounds sewerage system.

A five-foot concrete sidewalk will be built 1100 feet along highway 65 from Sixteenth street to the entrance of the grounds. Another walk 10 feet wide will be constructed around the lagoon recently built in the center of the race track.

Plans call for the re-roofing of five speed barns on the east side of the race track which houses the entries in the pacing and trotting events.

Fences throughout the grounds are being painted and repaired while painters are working in the Fine Arts building.

In conjunction with the WPA project, state fair maintenance men are entirely remodeling the large agriculture building at the south end of the grounds for the 37th annual exposition. Two modern rest rooms will be added to the building.

The new arrangement will provide more concession space and more effective locations for exhibit tables and booths.

GARDEN HINTS

Roses

Climbing roses can be propogated by the layer method—so if you have a favorite climbing rose which you would like to have cover an embankment, wall or fence, do it this way: Bend down a long shoot until it lies horizontally along a strip of freshly cultivated soil. Cut through the stem part of the way—at convenient joints. Peg and weight down the stem at these places where the new roots are to form. Cover each place with a mound of soft dirt. When roots have formed, which is often a slow process cut apart the rooted pieces and replant.

Most hybrid tea roses and many of the climbing roses are grafted on hardy wild rose root stock. Sometimes this suckers. In a year the wild growth may crowd out the plant. This is the time to look for the suckers coming from below ground. Their leaves have seven leaflets instead of five, the stems are very thorny. Thoroughly cut out the sucker underground, where it joins the main stalk.

This is the month to spray budding roses. Dust rambler roses with sulphur for mildew.

MAY TAKE ACTION TO RID CITY OF RISKY BUILDINGS

City Building Inspector Gives Report at Council Meeting

WATER CO. REFUSES A RATE REDUCTION

Mayor Bagby Refers The Matter Back To a Special Committee

Mayor Julian H. Bagby, members of the city council, City Counselor Fred Wesner, City Engineer Elmer Herrmann and Building Inspector J. D. Satterfield held a lengthy discussion, at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night, on what they termed "the unsafe condition" of a number of Sedalia buildings. This followed an oral report by Satterfield on the condition of a number of structures in the business district, many of which he stated should be repaired to avoid possible injury to the public.

All were unanimous in the opinion that something should be done about two or three of the buildings mentioned by Satterfield, but the legal phase of any proposed action was explained by Mr. Wesner, and they found only one course open, that of litigation in the circuit court, which they decided to take. Mr. Wesner will probably file a petition in the circuit court asking for action of the court to prevent the use of the specified building, or buildings, or at least for permission to erect a barricade which would be a warning to the public of the unsafe condition. Inspection will first be made by a committee of five persons.

Mayor Bagby announced receipt of a letter to himself and the city council from the Sedalia Water Company, in which, he said, "the Water Company refused the recent request of the city council for a reduction of water rates in Sedalia, and at the same time indicated that it did not intend to cooperate in any effort to reach any settlement of the water rate question."

The mayor stated it was his opinion that the city and its citizens were entitled to a reduction and referred the matter back to the special committee of the council, Aldermen Timborious, Fulkerson and Sumners, recently appointed to look into the question of reduction of water rates. He requested that the committee further investigate and study the situation and make its further report and recommendations to the mayor and council for further action, and steps to be taken in the matter.

The letter appears elsewhere in this paper.

The resignation of E. J. Donnelly as a member of the hospital board was announced.

Mayor Bagby placed before the council the name of J. H. Brooks for appointment as a police officer, which was approved by the body.

R. M. Battles, West Main street merchant, made a written and personal request for five new white way lights in the 200 block in West Main street, stating that the merchants and property owners there pay $4260 annually in city licenses. He stated that it is one of the most important business blocks in the city and he hoped the council would see fit to grant the request. Mayor Bagby replied that they would like very much to install the lights, but they did not know where the necessary funds would come from.

Two ordinances were read for the first time, changing the beer licenses, 3.2 per cent from $15 to $35 and 5 per cent from $15 to $50. Action will be taken on them at later meeting.

It was voted to enforce the ordinance prohibiting the erection of temporary signs over the sidewalks and streets without a permit, and the construction of the sidewalks and streets by signs or merchandise.

Under this ordinance it was decided to add parkways, as well as streets and sidewalks.

Alderman Timborious requested permission for the street and alley department to spend $225 or $250 for materials to repair the street at Second and Missouri avenue, which was granted.

Raymond Fetters, sanitary officer reported the city would have to find a new dump or "put an extension on the present one." Space there is becoming limited and the sanitary committee, Alderman Pinkepank, chairman, will give consideration to the matter.

Alderman Timborious requested that an ordinance be prepared, to be read at the next meeting, increasing the charge for city weighing from 10 cents per load to 20 cents per load, with 5 cents extra for a trailer. This suggestion was made, he said, because Sedalia's rate is lower than most other places.

Alderman Sumners called the attention of the council and the city engineer to a low place in the street on Thirteenth, east of the Katy tracks, and to the sidewalk on the northeast corner of Fifth and Hancock.

LETTER FROM THE WATER COMPANY SENT TO MAYOR

Figures Presented On Rates Reductions and Valuation

A letter to Mayor Julian H. Bagby, from the Sedalia Water Company, with reference to a reduction of rates in the City of Sedalia, referred to by the mayor in the meeting of the city council Monday night, reads in part:

"It has been the policy of the management of the company to make reductions voluntarily in its rate schedule from time to time as operating conditions would permit. The last reduction was made effective August 1, 1936 in anticipation of the refinancing of the funded debt of the company which was completed December, 1936. This policy of reducing rates, when it is possible to do so, is substantiated in the following voluntary rate reductions which have been made effective since November 1, 1926.

January 1, 1930—Reduction in Fire Hydrant Rental from $99.00 to $90.00 each per annum, $2601.

January 1, 1930—Reduction in Service Charges 5/8" meter from 80c to 70c per month, and on other size meters accordingly, $4599.

August 1, 1931—Reduction to users of over 4,000,000 gallons per month, $1422.

August 1, 1933—Reduction in fire hydrant rental from $90.00 to $80.00 each per annum, $2960.

February 1, 1934—Reduction in fire hydrant rental from $80.00 to $75.00 each per annum, $1480.

August 1, 1936—Reduction in metered schedule of rates and sprinkler system rates, $6008.

Total rate reductions $19070.

"As of June 30, 1926 by Order in Case No. 4019 the Public Service Commission of Missouri established the rate making value of the properties of the Sedalia Water Company at $1,269,000, and fixed the rate of return upon said value at seven and one-half per cent (7½%) per annum, plus one per cent per annum on the depreciable property value for depreciation. The finding of the above value for rate making purposes and the rates authorized in the above case, followed the completion of the extensive plan of improvements to the water supply system, pumping, transmission and distribution facilities which was started in 1924. These improvements were made in accordance with agreement between the Citizen's Committee appointed by the City, the Engineers selected by this committee, and the company, for the purpose of obtaining an adequate and dependable water supply and water system for Sedalia and its inhabitants.

"The rate making value established by the Commission at June 30, 1926 brought down to December 31, 1936 by giving effect to the subsequent additions and betterments, retirements and depreciation, all as reported annually to the Public Service Commission, is $1,339,260.62. While we do not accept this amount as representing the actual fair present value of the property of the company due to increased cost of materials and labor, however, we have used the same for the purpose of the following computations. The net revenue available for return for the calendar year 1936 after giving effect to the rate reduction effective August 1, 1936 was $76,443.54 or a rate return of 5.707%. Adjusting the above net revenue of $76,443.54, following the procedure usually used by the Commission, by spreading the increase in revenues due to the drought of 1936 and the increase in extraordinary maintenance expenditures caused by the extreme cold weather in February and March of 1936 over a five year period, the adjusted net revenue available for return for 1936 was $77,871.62 or a rate of return 5.814%. We must also keep the fact in mind that taxes and operating costs of practically every kind are steadily increasing. The present revenues and operating conditions make it impossible for the company to further reduce its rates at this time.

"In connection with the valuation made for the City by Warren and Van Pragg, engineers, we wish to state that the report fails to include values for certain items of property, has shown excessive rates of depreciation on many items of property and has failed to make proper allowance for commissions and errors. We must advise you that the company cannot reimburse the City for the amount of $4,000 paid to Warren and Van Pragg, Inc., for their services.

"It is our purpose to continue our policy of operating the business of this company in the most economical manner possible consistent with the maintenance of good service to the public, and to reduce rates as the earnings warrant such reductions. Certainly we cannot do this if our efforts at economical operations are offset and nullified by the imposition of extra costs of valuations and rate investigations.

"We regret that we cannot accede to your requests, and feel assured that upon reconsideration of the subject, you and the members of your Council will understand and appreciate that our position is fair and reasonable."

DR. W. E. MORROW DEAN OF COLLEGE FACULTY IS DEAD

End Comes to Well Known Educator at Warrensburg

By The Associated Press.

WARRENSBURG, Mo., June 21.—Funeral services will be held here tonight for Dr. Walter E. Morrow, 65, dean of the faculty and head of the economics department of Central Missouri State Teachers' college. He died early Sunday of a paralytic stroke suffered May 14.

Dr. Morrow was elected moderator of the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in 1925 and served many times as moderator of this Presbytery.

The death of Dr. Morrow brought to an end forty years of active service to the schools of Warrensburg and Western Missouri. He served first as principal of a ward school and was superintendent of city schools from 1902 to 1909, when he entered the college, then designated as a state normal. He later became head of the economics department and in 1928 was elected dean of the faculty. CAUTION AGAINST CATTLE TETANY

Pettis County farmers are cautioned by County Agent J. U. Morris to be on the watch for the appearance among their cattle of grass tetany, a disease with symptoms quite similar to those of milk fever. This disease is reported to Dr. A. W. Uren, extension veterinarian for the Missouri College of Agriculture, as appearing in many sections of the state and affecting cattle which were wintered on scanty rations and turned onto grass in the spring in a thin condition.

Grass tetany is generally believed to result from excessive eating of young and luxuriant grass. For some reason which is not known, there is a lowering of the calcium in the blood from its normal level and a corresponding raise in the amount of phosphorus in the blood in the animals affected.

The symptoms are very similar to an animal affected with milk fever, although the symptoms may vary in different animals. The first symptom probably noticed is nervousness, incoordination of muscular movement, excitability, rapidly followed by a paralysis. The animal does not run a temperature, although the heart action is very pronounced and the beating of the heart may be heard from a distance of a yard or more. The animal usually turns its head round to the side, assuming the characteristic posture seen in milk fever. In cases observed there has been a dirtyish appearing discharge from the nostrils, the mucous membranes of the mouth have a parboiled appearance and are very anaemic or pale in color. The animal does not live long after symptoms of complete paralysis develop.

Treatment for the disease is the same as for milk fever, using calcium gluconate injected intravenously. It is recommended that a veterinarian be called to administer all treatment. Treatment is successful in a large percentage of cases where given before the disease has advanced to its later stages.

APPROVE LOANS TO FARMERS IN PETTIS COUNTY

Resettlement Administration Agrees to Lend $24,500 for Improvements

INDIANAPOLIS, June 22.—(AP)—Philip G. Beck, chief of the resettlement division of the regional Resettlement Administration office here, announced Monday approval of loans totalling $24,500 to seven farmers for location on the Osage farm project in Pettis County, Mo.

The loans differ from those previously made in that farmers will pay for construction of their own homes through the 40-year, three per cent government loans. Homes will be constructed and other improvements made by private contractors under RA supervision.

The new units are in addition to 34 farmsteads now being improved, and only two more of the new type loans will be approved, Beck said.

The approved applications were selected from those now living on RA submarginal land use projects, those now living on land purchased for Osage farms, and rehabilitation loan clients who have proved their ability during the past four years, Beck said.

James Muster, Sedalia, is community manager of the Osage farms.

The resettlement administration is now working on thirty units, building houses and barns, digging wells and generally improving the sites.

The loans which were approved by the RA were made to farmers who will improve their farms themselves instead of buying already improved farms.

PIN BALL GAME MEASURE VETOED

Governor Stark Refuses to Approve Bill Reducing Penalty

JEFFERSON CITY, June 22.—Governor Lloyd C. Stark laid down another barrage in the war on slot machines today with a veto of a bill cutting the penalty for operation of a pin-ball game or baffle board from a felony to a misdemeanor.

"This...is a bill seeking to minimize the punishment of what is today in our state a continuing felony, committed hourly and daily in open, flagrant violation of our laws," he said.

"My information is that a pin ball game or baffle board is a type of slot machine.

"I do not believe that the punishment for the crime of setting up or operating a slot machine should be reduced.

"For the reason that this bill seeks to make what is now a penitentiary offense—setting up and operating 'slot machines'—a mere misdemeanor, I veto house bill No. 328 and return it without my approval."

The governor directed attention to the fact present law calls for a penalty of imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than two nor more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months or more than a year, to be assessed on operators or keepers of slot machines, or other gambling devices.

The bill vetoed, sponsored by Representatives Maurice Schechter and John A. Sullivan of St. Louis city, would have cut the penalty on pin ball games or baffle boards to a maximum penalty of six months in the county jail, with a fine of $25 to $500, or both. Both the games specified are operated by placing a coin in a slot, and offer a "pay-off" to winners.

Attorney General Roy McKittrick opened the anti-slot machine drive in a speech before the State Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs recently in which he called operation of slot machines "the greatest and most lucrative racket that ever existed in this state."

Stark followed quickly with a demand for enforcement of the law on the subject, and a warning that he "had been informed" he had the right to oust local officials who fail to enforce the law.

McKittrick later said he "stumbled over a slot machine" when leaving the meeting at which his address was made.

SAILENT POINTS IN THE RAILROAD RETIREMENT ACT

WASHINGTON, June 22.—What is the purpose of the Wagner-Crosser railroad retirement bill passed by the house yesterday and sent to the senate?

To provide pensions for employes on retirement from railroad service because of age or disability.

Who would be eligible for pensions?

(1) Retired workers 65 years of age or older; (2) Retired workers 60 years of age with 30 years' service; (3) Workers 60 years of age permanently disabled for regular employment; (4) Workers with 30 years' service who are permanently disabled, regardless of age.

How would pensions be computed

By multiplying the years of service by a figure representing two per cent of the first $50 of monthly compensation, 1½ per cent of the next $100 and one per cent of the next $150. For example a worker 65 years of age with 20 years' service and an average monthly salary of $150, would receive a monthly pension of $50.

Does the bill provide a maximum pension?

For those workers who count service prior to 1937 the maximum is $120. There is no limit on pensions based on services after that date.

Does it provide minimum pensions?

Yes, an employe 65 or more with at least 20 years' service would get at least $40 if his average monthly compensation was $50 or more. If his average monthly compensation was less than $50, he would get at least 80 per cent. If the monthly average was less than $20 the pension would be equal to that average.

What would happen to workers retired under private pension plans of the railroads?

They would be taken over by the government pension system.

What death benefits would be provided?

Four per cent of the compensation earned after December 31, 1936, less any amount paid to the employe or his widow as a pension.

How would the pensions and benefits be paid?

From the federal treasury. A tax starting this year at 5.5 per cent on the workers' income up to $300 a month would be shared equally by the worker and the railroads. The tax would increase to 7.5 per cent by 1949.

Would an employe be required to retire at 65?

No, but he would not be given an added pension for service after reaching the retirement age.

ROBBERY INSIDE THE COUNTY JAIL

A robbery within the county jail was the problem Sheriff W. L. Marlin found himself confronted with Monday. Early Sunday morning a visitor in the city, believed to be mentally ill, became unmanageable and was placed in one of the cells of the jail by officers. In their anxiety to have him quieted the officers failed to search him and later it was disclosed he had been wearing a wrist watch and ring, which had disappeared.

Calling all inmates of the jail to "line up" the sheriff began to question them. One prisoner volunteered the information that the jewelry had been taken by an inmate released the night before.

"That's the story I expected," he said. "Because that man is gone. Now I want the truth, Banks," and he turned to Verne Banks, Negro, in for alleged robbery. "What do you know about this. You have those things haven't you?" He had been tipped Banks had them.

"Well," said Banks, "it was like this. He shoved that ring through the bars and I picked it up." He then took off his shoe and shoved way down in the toe, so far it was hard to get out, was the ring.

"Now get the watch," said the sheriff. Banks denied he knew anything of the watch.

"I'll give you five minutes to produce that watch," Marlin told him. Only three were needed. "Go get it," Banks told a fellow prisoner, and the latter did. It had been hidden under something in the rear part of the building.

J. O. GREENSTREET PAINFULLY BURNED

J. O. Greenstreet, 2100 South Warren avenue, received painful burns on the left arm from the elbow down, as he tossed a coal oil stove out of the residence after it had caught on fire, about 12:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Both fire companies answered the alarm and upon their arrival Mr. Greenstreet had practically extinguished the blaze, but not until after he had been severely burned.

Firemen rendered medical attention by using a new solution for burns which they carry in a special built first-aid kit. Damage of about $10 resulted to the house and stove.

At 8:34 o'clock yesterday morning a barn at the residence of W. E. Miller, 710 E. Fourth street, caught fire from sparks from a burning trash pile. Slight damage resulted. Both fire companies answered the alarm.

PERSONS OFFERED OTHER JOBS GO OFF RELIEF ROLL

Farmers Needing Help Be Aided By The Social Relief Office

Employable persons on the Pettis county relief rolls who refuse work opportunities at fair wages are to be taken from the relief rolls, according to an order received from Wallace Crossley, state relief administrator, who sent similar notices to all counties in the state.

This action is to counteract reports that farmers wanting harvest help cannot get men because they are on relief.

Relief should be given, Crossley states, only when a person in unable to obtain work to support themselves and their dependants and refusal to accept legitimate work will result in the removal of those persons from the relief rolls.

Persons who are on relief, a who find work elsewhere are moved from the relief list only long as the money thus earn lasts, based on the relief need. Th may be reinstated on relief witho further certification, by merely stating their situation and talking it over with the relief director.

Miss Roseanne Dugan, county relief representative, asks that job refusals be reported to the relief office and further that farmers wanting harvest help also communicate with that office.

Crossley said there would be no change in the policy on relief for hungry families of strikers.

"I do not regard this situation as comparable to the recent uproar over feeding hungry families of strikers, although that was a tempest in a teapot because v few of those groups applied relief," he said.

"Too often people are unwillingly forced on strike and could not work, no matter how anxious.

"The commission made no exception of that class, but was willing to provide actual subsistence for any hungry family.

"We are still trying to help those who cannot help themselves, but there are in every community, idle men who could now secure seasonable employment.

"I don't care whether they are black or white, they will not receive help from the commission if they refuse work that is offered them at living wages, and we all know that many farmers are badly in need of help."

In the closing hours of the recent session of the legislature state senator, J. C. McDowell, Charleston, made a fight on the $9,000,000 relief appropriation, asserting that "many farmers" in southeast Missouri would have to import labor to handle the cotton "although there are hundreds able-bodied men on relief."

Crossley said Tuesday night order had been placed into effect in southeast Missouri "several days ago."

KILLS FOUR IN HIS FAMILY THEN SELF

MURRAYSVILLE, Pa., June 24.—A father killed three of his eight children and his wife, then took his own life today in this western Pennsylvania village.

Coroner H. A. McMurray of Westmoreland county said the father was Arthur W. Crewe, 42, a railroad brakeman.

State police under Sergeant Joseph J. Conwell, asserted Crewe opened fire on the mother while she and the three children huddled in a hallway in their home.

Officers said they found the bodies of the children sprawled near the mother. They were Florine, 10; Doris, 4, and Virginia, 2.

The father ran out the front door with a rifle, police said, and then shot himself.

A son, William, 16, who had hidden in the house during the shooting, ran to a neighbor's house and cried to Mrs. Lawrence Driever:

"Pap's gone crazy. He's shooting everybody."

Mary, 12, and Irma, 7, were returning from delivering milk to a neighbor's home when they saw their father.

Mary said:

"Irma and I were delivering [illegible] to neighbors. Mom and the othe were up when we left and Richa had gone to work."

Crewe had driven the 18-year-old son, Richard, to work in the railroad shops only an hour before he returned to the house.

Neighbors said Crewe had been worrying since fire destroyed the family's home last July. Since that time the family had lived in a garage converted into a house.

Crewe had lived for 15 years on a farm between Level Green and Murraysville.

PALMER AND SON FOUND GUILTY IN ABDUCTION CASE

Jury Recommends Leniency For Two Convicted in Conspiracy

NEWARK, N. J., June 24.—(AP)—Ellis H. Parker and his son were convicted by a federal court jury last night of conspiracy in the abduction of Paul H Wendel with a recommendation for leniency.

Just before returning the verdict after a little more than six hours' deliberation in the case which grew out of the Lindbergh kidnaping, the jury had asked Federal Judge Clark whether it could convict with a leniency recommendation.

Judge Clark gave an affirmative answer and added that "such a recommendation would have great weight with the court."

The senior Parker, 65, and veteran chief of Burlington county detectives, and his 26-year-old son, Ellis, Jr., were charged under the so-called Lindbergh law with conspiring to abduct Wendel, a former Trenton lawyer, and obtain from him by force a confession to the Lindbergh kidnaping.

The confession, produced almost on the eve of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's execution, delayed the latter for 72 hours but was repudiated and discredited by authorities.

The verdict was read by the woman foreman, Mrs. Anna Voightlander. Seven other women were on the jury.

The sentence is discretionary with the judge. Although the maximum under the law is the death penalty, Judge Clark in his charge had ruled out that possibility.

COST OF CHARITABLE GIFTS DECREASE

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Rising tax rates are decreasing the cost of charitable gifts in the United States, a lawyer told a convention of the American Library Association today.

Asserting the tax on a $1,000,000 estate has been raised 2,100 per cent in the last ten years, Ralph E. Lum, former president of the New Jersey Bar Association, said:

"Strangely enough, the very height of present tax rates make gifts for charitable, literary and educational purposes increasingly attractive."

Lum said the clause making such gifts—up to 15 per cent of an individual's annual net income—tax exempt was one factor responsible for the saving."

"For example," he said, "A person who has a net income of $80,000 can make a gift of $12,000 at a net expenditure to himself of only $6,600 because the income taxes otherwise payable by him are reduced by $5,400."

A. J. MURPHY TO HEAD NEW 'JOB INSURANCE' BODY

Be Chairman of Commission On Unemployment Compensation

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 19.—Governor Stark today announced appointment of Andrew J. Murphy of Louisiana, Mo., his close friend and advisor, as chairman of the new three-member unemployment compensation commission, serving a six-year term.

The appointment will take effect immediately. Murphy's resignation from the state tax commission, to which he was appointed in June, 1933, by former Governor Guy B. Park, also was announced.

Sometimes called the "Colonel House" of the Stark administration, Murphy will represent the general public on the commission administering the new "job insurance" law, which went into effect on its signature by the governor Thursday.

Two more commission members, one representing labor and the other employers, will be named soon, the governor said. One will serve four years, another for two. After that all appointments will be for six years.

Commissioners are to be paid $7,500 yearly.

The appointments, involving administrations of a law expected to affect 650,000 workers, are regarded as among the most important to be made by Governor Stark, as well as the highest paid positions created by the last assembly.

As a member of the tax commission Murphy's salary was $4,500 yearly.

His term on the tax commission has two more years to run. The governor did not announce a successor.

Murphy, born in Chanute, Kas., has lived in Missouri for 64 of his 67 years.

Since 1884 he has lived in Pike county, also Governor Stark's home, and for the last 40 years has been a successful wholesale grocer.

In the last 25 years, he and Governor Stark have been associated in many public enterprises. He was secretary of the group which built the Champ Clark bridge at Louisiana, and Stark president. He also was a member of the citizens committee handling the successful campaign for the 75 million dollar road bond issue in 1928. Stark likewise headed this group.

Size of the staff to be required by the new commission in its huge task of administering the compensation law has been estimated as at least 200.

WALL BE ERECTED FOR PROTECTION

The state highway department will commence work on two projects on the north side of highway No. 50 in Warrensburg this week which it is estimated will cost $5,000. A rock retaining wall will be constructed along the south side of the Dawes property west from North Holden street, and another wall will be erected along the front of the Pershing school.

The wall along the Dawes property will be 2½ feet in height at Holden street and at the west end, the driveway to the Lantern Barbecue will be 5½ feet high.

Under present plans it is hoped to increase the visibility to the west at the Dawes corner after the wall has been completed. This corner is considered one of the most hazardous spots along the highway, the view being limited both to the east and west.

Plans for the wall in front of the Pershing school call for an iron railing on top. This wall is being built to protect school children.

OUTING WAS HELD AT "THE OAKS" CABIN

"Al" Rockett, Noted Movie Prodcuer, Formerly of Sedalia, A Visitor

Recalls Fond Memories of This City Where Boyhood Was Spent—Speaks Commendingly of Sedalians Who Won Recognition In Movies—Mother Enjoys Calls on Old Friends.

"I have very fond memories of Sedalia and its great to be back in 'the old home town,' even if it's only for a day," A. A. "Al" Rockett, one of the outstanding motion picture producers, said in an interview Saturday morning.

Mr. Rockett with his mother, Mrs. M. C. Berry, widow of the late M. C. Berry, Missouri Pacific engineer, are making a tour of the old "home places" and renewing friends they haven't seen for years. They left California May 20 and expect to be back home a little after the first of July.

They visited with his step-sister, Mrs. Earl Bowman at Sturgis, Mich., then went to New York City where they visited with friends and attended to business. Returning to California they decided to make a trip of it and started by visiting Vincennes, Ind., where Mr. Rockett was born 46 years ago. Then brief vists to Indianapolis and Bloomington, Ind.

"Al" Rockett and His Mother

Returning to California, they stopped at Excelsior Springs, fearing it was just a short distance to Sedalia, drove here, arriving Friday afternoon and remained until Saturday afternoon, when they departed for Kansas City, where Mr. Rockett must remain for a day on business.

Leaving Kansas City they intend to visit with friends at Denver and Pueblo, Colo., and thence on to Beverly Hills, California, their home.

It's the first visit either has made to Sedalia in nearly 27 years, but Mrs. Berry, who is past seventy, but proud, remembers the names of her old friends and recalls many interesting happenings during her ten years in Sedalia.

Friday evening they motored over southeast Sedalia to see the old home place at 1301 East Seventh street, then past the East Broadway Christian church, where Mr. Rockett was baptised. They also visited old friends who still reside in the neighborhood and renewed old acquaintances in the city.

Saturday they took another drive over the city and complimented Sedalia on its growth and the building now in progress.

"My fondest memories," Mr. Rockett said, "are when I went to the old Summit school and later attended and graduated from the old Sedalia high school. I recall the bitter with the sweet, but looking back it is something to think about.

Worked In Nickelodeon

"I recall how before and after school I used to work. I would tear out from home and go to school, leave school and get back home and practically run all the way to town to my work. It was tough, but I had to make it, and I guess it didn't hurt me.

"I worked in one of Sedalia's first nickelodeons. I worked in the old Palace Theatre which was located at 319 South Ohio avenue which at that time was operated by J. A. Capen, and then at the Electric Theatre at 225 South Ohio avenue which was operated by F. J. Bailey. The Uptown Theatre now has the old Electric location. It was while playing in these theatres I got the motion picture bug.

"In 1910 I left Sedalia for Denver, Colo., where I was employed by the American Smeltering Refining Co., and remained there until 1915 when I went to California and got into the motion picture business. Since that time I have enjoyed a most successful career in that industry," Mr. Rockett said.

Served in The War

When the United States entered the World War, Mr. Rockett was made a First Lieutenant in the Intelligence Service and served in this county. After the war he returned to the movie industry and since has been a producer.

For eight years he was with First National Pictures as general manager of the studios, later went with Fox as a producer and for several years was general manager of their studios, and remained with that company until he entered independent producing. At the present time he is producing several pictures for United Artists.

Mr. Rockett has produced many outstanding pictures, one of which he is proud, is the production "Abraham Lincoln," filmed back about 1922. He also produced several pictures in which the late Will Rogers played, one "State Fair." Another outstanding picture which swept the country which he produced was "Cavalcade." He has also produced several pictures in which Shirley Temple has appeared.

Gave Jean Harlow "Bit"

In talking of the career of the late Jean Harlow, herself a former Missourian, it was learned that Mr. Rockett gave her her first small "bit." Miss Harlow played in a picture produced by Mr. Rockett just before she was given her chance in Hell's Angels," from which picture she soared to stardom.

"Miss Harlow was working as an extra and a small part in my picture required a girl such as she. I secured her services for that picture and it was the first she had in what one might consider her real start to fame.

"The industry has lost a great star, who was loved by her public, and one who possessed many talents. In the meager part she played in that first picture, I feel I had a part in her career," Mr. Rockett said.

Sedalians In Movies

He told of the Sedalians now in California in motion pictures and who have connections with the picture industry. He told of Eugene Pallette, of Jack (Offield) Oakie, Pearl White, who hailed from Green Ridge, and of Mrs. Nancy Smith, formerly Mrs. Dorothy Wallace Ilgenfritz, a publicity director for several of the leading stars. He also told of Dorothy Dwan (Dorothy Ilgenfritz) daughter of Mrs. Smith.

Mr. Rockett told of a trip he made around the world about two years ago at which time he visited practically every country. He told of visiting with Pearl White, who at that time was in France, and of her pleasant reminiscences on 'old Missouri'. Miss White recently has been in Springfield visiting relatives.

He said that he intended to retire from the picture business in 1938 having already purchased a 40-acre farm which he described as having an orange grove, chickens, turkeys, a cow or two, a horse or two and some farm tools. "I will go into farming in a 'big way' on my 40-acre tract."

Ragle Rockett, a brother of Mr. Rockett, who was for many years in the motion picture production business with his brother, resides on a ranch near Carlsbad, Calif., having retired about two years ago.

"Ragle often discusses Sedalia and recalls being a graduate of the Central Business College at which time Clark W. Robbins was principal," Mr. Rockett said.

"I hope to get back to Sedalia sometime in the near future and remain longer than a day and just have a real get-together with my old schoolmates, those who still reside in Sedalia," he said in closing his interview.

NEW CHURCH AT DRESDEN

—Staff photo.

Methodist Episcopal church, South, Dresden, which was dedicated Sunday and (inset) the Rev. M. L. Jeffers, Houstonia, its pastor.

The above church, recently completed, takes the place of the structure which was destroyed by fire about a year ago. Rev. L. N. Starkey, Sedalia; presiding elder of this district, dedicated the church and other ministers present, all former pastors, were: Rev. F. M. Benton, Corder, whose first pastorate was the Dresden church; Rev. William Sampson, Otterville; Rev. C. E. Sullens, La Monte; Rev. S. P. Cayton, Sedalia and Rev. T. H. Swearingen, Sedalia.

Services began at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and consisted of communion, sermon and dedication. Rev. Jeffers presided, Rev. Starkey conducted the dedication, and Judge Malcolm Scott lead the singing.

Dinner was served at noon and the afternoon service opened at 2 o'clock. At this time Rev. Burton preached, Mrs. L. N. Starkey sang a solo, and Miss Mary Stine, Dresden, read the history of the church.

The members of the congregation may be proud of the fact that the church has been erected and will be dedicated free of debt. It has been paid for by some insurance money, a $300 gift from the church board of extension, and by funds raised by the members and their friends. The pews and a Delco light system have been installed and paid for, but it remains for the congregation to buy and have installed a furnace.

Henry Flad One of Early Day Railroad Engineers In State-Assistant on Bridge

Compiled by Historical Society of Missouri, Floyd C. Shoemaker, Secretary.

Henry Flad, distinguished engineer and inventor, was one of Missouri's citizens of rare ability for whom the State is indebted to the German Revolution of 1848. That this outstanding man should have made his way from his native Rhineland to St. Louis to leave the lasting impression of his engineering genius upon the famous Eads Bridge and the city's magnificent system of public works, is one of the romances of the great European revolutionary movement which gave to Missouri so many distinguished citizens of German birth.

After graduating in 1846, at the age of 22, from the University of Munich, Flad spent two years in engineering work for the improvement of the River Rhine. In 1848, upon being caught in the throes of the German Revolution, he became a captain of engineers in the nationalist army. Following the defeat of the parliamentary forces and the forced retreat of the army into Switzerland, Flad with other leaders was placed under sentence of death by the Imperial government. With thousands of other Germans he fled to the United States.

After landing in New York in 1849, Flad entered the office of an architect and in a short time secured an engineering position with the New York and Erie Railroad which was then under construction. Following the completion of the New York and Erie, he became an assistant engineer on the Mississippi and Ohio railroad. Upon the opening of this road in 1854—the first railroad to reach St. Louis from the East—Flad was sent to Potosi, Missouri as resident engineer on the Iron Mountain railroad. From this time on, Missouri may claim him.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, Flad entered the U. S. Army as a private and by rapid successive promotions rose to the rank of colonel. For three and one-half years, during which time his engineering ability brought him into prominence, he was active in the maintaining of railroad communications and in the construction of fortifications which took him from New Madrid to Corinth.

After the close of the war, Colonel Flad returned to St. Louis. In 1869, in recognition of his outstanding abilities, James B. Eads chose him as chief assistant engineer in the construction of the great St. Louis bridge. With this appointment, Flad entered upon the most spectacular phase of his career.

Throughout the entire period of the construction of the famous bridge from 1869 to 1874, Flad was Eads' right hand man, and during the time of Eads' forced retirement in 1873, he assumed complete authority. Not only was he responsible, with the assistance of Pfeiffer, for the mathematical investigations and calculations in accordance with which the bridge was built, but to Flad belongs the major credit for some of the boldest features of the bridge. The method which he devised for erecting the superstructure of the bridge without framework, thus leaving the river unobstructed throughout the process of building, was an outstanding achievement in the history of engineering.

No less remarkable than his work on the bridge was the impress left by Flad on the public works of St. Louis. In 1856, as assistant engineer to James Kirkwood, Flad worked on plans for a new system of water works for the city and in 1867 was made a commissioner of the reorganized board of water commissioners. During the eight years which he served as a member of the board, the foundations of St. Louis' splendid system of waterworks was completed. In 1875 or '76 he laid out Forest Park for permanent improvement. Beginning in 1877, he entered upon nearly fourteen years of continuous service as the first president of St. Louis' newly created Board of Public Improvements. Through his determined efforts the public works of St. Louis were kept out of the mire of politics and placed upon a sound engineering and financial basis. In this signal service alone Flad left an enduring monument to his business ability, engineering skill and unswerving integrity.

A nationally recognized authority in the field of civil engineering, Flad was frequently called into consultation on important engineering projects. In 1886, he served as president of the American Society of Engineers. In 1890 he was appointed a member of the Mississippi River Commission. A dredge boat which he designed while a member of the Commission for the removal of sand-bars marked the beginning of a new era in the history of the improvement of the Mississippi. The ingenious contriver of countless other engineering devices, which ranged from a deep sea sounding appartus to systems of rapid transit, Flad was even best known to some of his associates as an inventor.

While on a return trip from New York where he had been to attend a meeting of the Mississippi River Commission, Flad dropped dead in Pittsburg on June 20, 1898. In boldness and originality, he is said to have had few equals in the annals of his profession.
